

Contents

Acknowledgements	ix
Contributors	x
Editors' Introduction	1
Part 1: Making the Meaning of Management
1 Understanding Management: Culture, Critique and Change Stephen Linstead	11
2 The Meaning of Management and the Management of Meaning Dan Gowler and Karen Legge	34
3 Producing Clarity – Depoliticizing Control David Golding	51
Part 2: Defamiliarizing Management Practice
4 Competence, Symbolic Activity and Promotability Omar Aktouf	66
5 Management Rituals: Maintaining Simplicity in the Chain of Command David Golding	78
6 There to Here and No Way Back: the Late Life of a Cocaine Dealer Michael L. Rosen and Thomas P. Mullen	94
Part 3: Rethinking Symbolic Management
7 Management in Context: Culture and Organizational Change Steven P. Feldman	113
8 'We are our own Policemen!' – Organizing without Conflict Stephen Lloyd Smith and Barry Wilkinson	130
Part 4: Consuming and Constructing Identity
9 Marketing, or the Anthropology of Consumption Robert Grafton Small	145

10	Autobiographical Acts and Organizational Identities Barbara Czarniawska-Joerges	157
Part 5: Changing Identities
11	Between Managers and the Managed: the Processes of Organizational Transition Paul Jeffcutt	172
12	Postmodernism Goes Practical Hugo Letiche	193
	Name Index	212
	Subject Index	216