

Contents

List of figures	7
List of tables	9
Acknowledgements	11
1 Introduction	13
Definition of Europe	13
European marketing: how this book is structured	16
Developing the organisation's European mission and objectives	16
Implications of redrawing the map of Europe	18
2 European markets and cultures	20
Europe in global markets	20
EC Common Agricultural Policy and the GATT	24
European Monetary Union	26
Western European markets	29
Eastern European markets	32
Western European markets: wealth and consumption	35
Sociocultural issues: education, religion and law	36
Technical and environmental issues	39
Conclusion	42
3 The European business and political background	44
Origins and decision-making processes of the EC	44
The Single Europe Act and its supposed marketing potential	50
The European Economic Area Treaty and its impact on EC and EFTA markets	54

4 / European Marketing

The EC's moves to integration and their marketing implications	55
Influencing the EC's political and business decision-making process	58
Eastern European issues	59

4 European customers and market definition 64

A crucial strategic question: What geographical market are our customers in?	64
Exploring European customers	68
Pan-European market segmentation	72
Eastern European customer issues	75
Conclusions	77

5 European marketing research 80

European marketing research: some key issues	80
EC current research activity	82
Special issues in European marketing research	85
Data sources for Europe	88
Organisation and decision making for European marketing research	89
Marketing research cost-effectiveness: conclusions	90

6 Developing the options for European marketing strategy 92

The European marketing strategy development process	92
Identification of European critical success factors	94
Sustainable competitive advantage in Europe	95
Developing the options	98
Special strategies for the EC and the European Economic Area	103
Special strategies for Eastern Europe	107

7 Selecting the best option 112

Selecting the best option: the basic steps	112
European marketing strategy guidelines	114
Options selection in global markets	119
Implications of pan-European markets for marketing strategy selection	121

Marketing strategies for Eastern Europe	125
8 European market entry and country selection		130
European market entry strategy	130
European country selection	135
Competitive reaction to European entry	139
Conclusions and action	141
9 European product decisions		144
EC basics: the trading and legal framework for the single Europe	144
Defining the European product benefit	150
Developing benefits for existing products to beat European competitors	152
New product development in the single Europe	160
Product marketing decisions for Eastern Europe	164
10 European pricing decisions		170
European pricing: the influence of the EC	170
European credit and export pricing considerations	174
European pricing and currency issues	176
Single Europe pricing decisions	179
Eastern European pricing decisions	182
11 European promotion decisions		186
European promotions: basic regulation	187
Current EC advertising and promotional activity	190
European promotional objectives and the promotional mix	193
Western European promotional decision making	199
Eastern European promotional decision making	201
12 European place decisions		205
EC place decisions: basic background issues	205
EC distribution structures	209
EC place decisions: channels and logistics	213

6 /	European Marketing
	Eastern European place decisions	215
13	European human resources and organisation decisions		219
	EC basics: European social policy	219
	European human resources development in marketing		221
	European marketing organisation	223
14	Marketing planning and control in the Europe of the future		230
	European marketing planning	230
	European monitoring and control systems		231
	Europe's challenging future	232
	Appendix I The constitution of the European Community		235
	Appendix II The ECU		236
	Appendix III Summary of EC rules on cross-border mergers and Acquisitions		237
	Index		241

| List of figures

1.1 Europe: population by nation (1989)	14
1.2 European marketing: decision making process	17
2.1 Share of world exports — 1989	21
2.2 Major European exporters — 1989	22
2.3 Major European importers — 1989	22
2.4 European balance of exports	23
2.5 Eastern Europe: a rough balance sheet — assets	32
2.6 Eastern Europe: a rough balance sheet — liabilities	33
2.7 European wealth: GDP per head of population (1989)	34
3.1 Decision making in the European Community	51
3.2 Wealth predictions for Eastern Europe	60
4.1 Where 'European' customers fit	66
4.2 Europe's major industries	67
4.3 Ranking of major EC sectors (1989)	71
4.4 (A & B) Eastern Europe: living standards	76
6.1 European marketing: decision-making process	94
6.2 European options: Ansoff matrix	100
7.1 European competitive strategy options	118
7.2 The European portfolio	119
7.3 Portfolio adjustments by a US food manufacturer	123
8.1 Evolution of European market entry	131
8.2 Country selection and evaluation for large companies	138
9.1 European product decisions	145
9.2 European product benefit definition	151
9.3 Product benefit options in Europe	153
9.4 Comprehensive route to European new product development	161

8 / European Marketing

10.1	Single Europe pricing decisions	171
10.2	Pricing strategy: basic issues	179
11.1	European promotional decisions	181
11.2	European advertising and promotions in US$ bn for 1989		191
11.3	EC advertising media	192
12.1	European place decisions	206
13.1	Pan-European marketing organisation in manufacturing		224
13.2	Pan-European sales organisation in manufacturing		225

| List of tables

1.1 Rates of economic growth	15
2.1 The importance of international trade as percentage of GDP (1989)	21
2.2 EC prices as percentage of world prices (1979–80)	22
2.3 Specialisation indicators for EC industry in 1987	30
2.4 Country ranking of consumption per head of households by purpose (1988)	35
2.5 Percentage of age group enrolled in tertiary education in selected European countries	36
3.1 Some key dates in EC history	46
3.2 General EC budget: 1989	48
3.3 The Cecchini Report and the costs of non-Europe	53
4.1 The 16 European socio-styles	73
4.2 Ranking of Europe's 20 most popular brands	74
5.1 Possible tasks of European marketing research	83
5.2 Sources of revenue for EC market research organisations in 1989	84
5.3 National or pan-European-level market research: what level of decision making?	89
6.1 Examples of critical success factors in European industry	95
8.1 Advantages and disadvantages of routes into Europe	134
9.1 European standardisation versus customisation	154
9.2 Selected acquisitions and joint ventures in Eastern Europe	166
10.1 The penalty of exporting	175
10.2 Profitability of some of Europe's top companies: 1987	177

10 / European Marketing

11.1 Promotional expenditure (1989)	191
11.2 Advertising expenditure (1989)	192
11.3 European advertising by main media: 1989	193
11.4 European agency selection: national or pan-European?	196
11.5 Approximate EC promotional expenditure by industry: 1989	201
12.1 Concentration of European grocery buying: 1986	212