

Chapter 1:	The Neo-Schumpeterian and Evolutionary Approach to Economics—An Introduction Lars Magnusson	1
I	Evolutionary Theory	9
Chapter 2:	What is Evolutionary Economics? Richard Langlois and Michael Everett	11
Chapter 3:	The Unit that Evolves: Linking Self-Reproduction and Self-Interest Michael Hutter	49
Chapter 4:	On the Nature of Economic Evolution: John R. Commons and the Metaphor of Artificial Selection Yngve Ramstad	65
II	Neo-Schumpeterian Dynamics	123
Chapter 5:	The Phenomenon of Economic Change: Neoclassical vs. Schumpeterian Approaches Kurt Dopfer	125
Chapter 6:	The Theory of the Firm and the Theory of Economic Growth Gunnar Eliasson	173
Chapter 7:	Evolutionary Regimes and Industrial Dynamics Giovanni Dosi, Franco Malerba, and Luigi Orsenigo	203
Chapter 8:	The Role of Firm Difference in an Evolutionary Theory of Technical Advance Richard Nelson	231

III Critique and New Challenges	243
Chapter 9: The Integration of Theory and History: Methodology and Ideology in Schumpeter's Economics William Lazonick	245
Chapter 10: Neo-Schumpeterians and Economic Theory Arnold Heertje	265
Chapter 11: Rethinking Economics: From GNP Growth to Ecological Sustainability Peter Söderbaum	277
Chapter 12: Innovations, Markets and Institutions: An Historical Approach Lars Magnusson and Göran Marklund	301
Contributing Authors	321
Index	323