

Table of Contents

Acknowledgments.....	vii
1 The Where, What, How and So What of Politics.....	1
The Questioning Life.....	1
2 Where Do You Live?.....	13
The Social Shift: From Communities of Total Commitment to Communities of Limited Commitment.....	15
The Legal Shift: Political Cut-and-Paste.....	25
From All Politics Is Local to All Politics Is Personal.....	28
3 What Do You Need To Know? Requisites for Active Citizenship.....	31
The Basics: What Do You Need to Know?.....	31
The Informed Citizen.....	41
4 How Do You Know What You Know? The First Wave of Geography-Superceding Technologies.....	43
A Benchmark for Comparison: A Virtually Unmediated Reality.....	43
Back to the Future: From Hearth and Kin to the Radio Dial.....	46
Television Environment: The 800 Pound Gorilla.....	49
Fragmentation: The First Shoe Drops.....	57
5 How Do You Know What You Know? Computers, the Internet and Beyond.....	61
The Nature of the New Technologies as Information Providers.....	62

How You Know Helps Determine What You Know.....92

6 What Do You Know? The Informed Citizen.....93

Who Knows What in the Cyber-Information Age?.....93

Technology-induced Empowerment?.....106

7 The Where, What and How of Politics in the Cyberdemocracy Age.....109

Where You Sit Determines If You Sit: Modern

Political Geography.....109

Information and Political Action: To Know Is to Act.....118

Looking out for Yourself: Democracy R Us.....130

Where Does It All Leave Us?.....133

Notes.....135

Index.....153