Contents

List of illustrations vii
Notes on contributors ix

1 Introduction 1
MARGARET S. ARCHER AND JONATHAN Q. TRITTER

PART I
Rationality 17

2 The bird in hand: rational choice – the default mode of social theorizing 19
PETER WAGNER

3 Homo economicus, Homo sociologicus and Homo sentiens 36
MARGARET S. ARCHER

4 Is rational choice theory ‘unreasonable’? The neglected emotions 57
SIMON J. WILLIAMS

PART II
Individualism 73

5 Social theory and the underclass: social realism or rational choice individualism? 75
JUSTIN CRUICKSHANK
6 (Ir)rational choice: a multidimensional approach to choice and constraint in decisions about marriage, divorce and remarriage
KAY PEGGS AND RICHARD LAMPARD

7 Switching allegiances: decisions by schools to ‘opt out’ to self-management
JONATHAN Q. TRITTER

8 Rational choice or ‘Hobson’s choice’? Intention and constraint in UK higher education
ANDREW PARKER

PART III
Temporality

9 ‘I do’: a theoretical critique of Becker’s rational choice approach to marriage decisions
IAN PROCTER

10 Decision-making as a process over time: the careers of home-located cultural workers
CAROL WOLKOWITZ

11 The decision to commit a crime against humanity
ROBERT FINE AND DAVID HIRSH

12 ‘Race’, ethnicity and housing decisions: rational choice theory and the choice–constraints debate
PETER RATCLIFFE

Conclusion

13 ‘When the battle’s lost and won’
JAMES A. BECKFORD

Bibliography
Name Index
Subject Index
Illustrations

Tables

6.1 Characteristics of the interviewees 99
9.1 Calculating a utility balance 148
9.2 Freda’s matrix of possibilities 155

Figures

9.1 Freda’s three scenarios 154
9.2 Freda’s preference order and choice 154