

Contents

List of figures	xi
List of tables	xv
Preface	xvi
Guided tour	xx
Publisher's acknowledgements	xxii

Chapter 1	Managing the service process by the Service Value Chain	5
	It's all about value	7
	Services marketing in action 1.1: Strong competition in many service industries	7
	Services are processes	13
	The Service Value Chain	16
	Services marketing in action 1.2: Grocery market share through customer retention	19
	Services marketing in action 1.3: Service Value Chain in the tourism industry	20
	Summary	22
	Case study: Creating value at Ritz-Carlton	27
Chapter 2	Value creation by services marketing: Service Value Chain and Service Profit Chain	31
	Integrating the Service Value Chain and the Service Profit Chain	33
	Customer value	36
	Services marketing in action 2.1: Customer segmentation based on customer profitability in a Scandinavian bank	41
	Value-driving customer behaviours	44
	Services marketing in action 2.2: Customer migration analysis	46
	How customers evaluate services	48
	Services marketing in action 2.3: Different sides of the same coin	50
	Value contribution of the Service Value Chain	57
	Summary	58
	Case study: The Service Profit Chain at a UK grocery store	61
	Case study: The Service Profit Chain at Canadian Imperial Bank of Commerce (CIBC)	64

Primary value processes: Managing interactions and relationships

Chapter 3	The customer interaction process: Managing customer integration, the service encounter and service recovery	71
	Value creation by service interactions	73
	Customer integration	74
	Producing a service in the service encounter	76
	Services marketing in action 3.1: Critical incidents of a cruise operator	81
	Service recovery	91
	Services marketing in action 3.2: Service recovery at Club Med Cancun	97
	Services marketing in action 3.3: Successful and unsuccessful recovery strategies in retailing	100
	Summary	102
	Case study: Fujitsu Consulting: Mobile operators creating value by service interactions	106
Chapter 4	The customer relationship process: Managing customer acquisition, retention and recovery	109
	Value contribution of customer relationships	110
	Understanding customer relationships	113
	Services marketing in action 4.1: Customer relationship lifecycle	115
	Understanding and managing relational behaviours	118
	Services marketing in action 4.2: Tesco Clubcard	123
	Services marketing in action 4.3: Who has the best loyalty programme?	124
	Services marketing in action 4.4: Switching processes of bank customers	129
	Services marketing in action 4.5: Reducing customer defection in the credit card industry	133
	Services marketing in action 4.6: Experiences with managing relationships across industries	135
	Relationship quality: Customer perceptions of their relationships to service providers	136
	Summary	139
	Case study: Tesco's Clubcard	142
Chapter 5	Defining the benefit part of service value: The service product	147
	Value contribution of the service product	148
	Services marketing in action 5.1: Core service drives customer switching	149
	Services marketing in action 5.2: Tetra Pak: Designing the service programme according to the customer's value chain	150

Elements of the service product	151
Services marketing in action 5.3: Pizza Hut celebrates successful delivery to space	153
Services marketing in action 5.4: The impact of after sales service on customer perceptions	160
Services marketing in action 5.5: Importance of core and relational service aspects differ according to gender	161
Services marketing in action 5.6: Leading Hotels extends its line	165
Decisions regarding the service product	167
Services marketing in action 5.7: Service innovation at FTSE: The FTSE4Good Index for socially responsible investment	170
Services marketing in action 5.8: Online in air	171
Services marketing in action 5.9: Service innovation in hospital foodservice	172
Services marketing in action 5.10: easyJet: Focus on price via externalisation	181
Services marketing in action 5.11: Product elimination by financial service providers	182
Services marketing in action 5.12: Time-lapse of the Iridium story	184
Summary	185
Case study: Recreational Equipment (REI): The greatest shop in the world	188
Chapter 6 Defining the cost part of service value: Service pricing	191
Value contribution of pricing	192
Determining service price	194
Services marketing in action 6.1: UK banks' pricing practices for current account and payments services	197
Services marketing in action 6.2: Pricing for a new recreational centre	201
Services marketing in action 6.3: Multi-step synthetic pricing for a hotel	206
Strategic options of price discrimination	208
Services marketing in action 6.4: Examples of membership-related price discrimination	211
Services marketing in action 6.5: Price bundling at Royal Bank of Scotland	214
Services marketing in action 6.6: Last-minute birthday package	216
Services marketing in action 6.7: Price discrimination at Werder Bremen	219
Summary	220
Case study: Restructuring the pricing strategy of an Australian football club	224
Chapter 7 Delivering service value: Managing service delivery	226
Value contribution of service delivery	227
Place of service delivery	228
Services marketing in action 7.1: Food de luxe at home in Barcelona	229
Services marketing in action 7.2: Mobile learning gains foothold	232
Services marketing in action 7.3: Groundbreaking new service delivers museum-quality high resolution art and photography into the home on flat panel TVs and PCs	233
Services marketing in action 7.4: Customer 'run' on Mediamarkt due to marketing tricks	236
Services marketing in action 7.5: Evaluation of service locations by a pizza restaurant chain	239

Timing of service delivery	241
Services marketing in action 7.6: Effectiveness of a 24-hour freeway patrol service	244
Services marketing in action 7.7: Delivering furniture: A race with the customer	245
Channels of service distribution and delivery	246
Services marketing in action 7.8: Channel preferences of bank customers	257
Services marketing in action 7.9: Value effects of multi-channelling	258
Services marketing in action 7.10: External channel conflicts in the life insurance industry	259
Summary	260
Case study: Multi-channelling at Mövenpick Wein Corporation	263
Chapter 8 Communicating service value: Service communications and branding	267
Value contribution of branding and communications	268
Services marketing in action 8.1: McDonald's recovery	269
Interactional, relational and brand communications	270
Services marketing in action 8.2: Wasted communications opportunities by UK banks	274
Service branding and communications	275
Services marketing in action 8.3: Interbrand's brand value ranking	277
Services marketing in action 8.4: Brand image messages of US universities	280
Services marketing in action 8.5: Means-end chain of students at the University of New Hampshire	281
Instruments of service communications	283
Services marketing in action 8.6: Permission marketing by Amex	289
Services marketing in action 8.7: Car race at Times Square	290
Integrated communications	293
Services marketing in action 8.8: Integrated advertisements by service firms	294
Summary	296
Case study: Virgin Mobile: Growth through branding and communications in a saturated market	299
Secondary value processes: Managing service resources for value
Chapter 9 Managing employees, tangibles and technology for value	304
Managing the behaviour of service employees	306
Services marketing in action 9.1: Restructuring at Barclays	307
Services marketing in action 9.2: The McDonald's training programme	314
Services marketing in action 9.3: Compensation drives attraction and retention of restaurant managers	316
Services marketing in action 9.4: Attracting and selecting new employees at McDonald's	317
Managing the tangibles of a service	319
Services marketing in action 9.5: Cleanliness as a tangible quality dimension in hotels	323

Managing service technology	324
Services marketing in action 9.6: Customer motivation and productivity through technology in Conduit call centres	326
Services marketing in action 9.7: Driving value through technology	329
Services marketing in action 9.8: Questions for the implementation of service technologies	333
Summary	334
Case study: Service orientation through employee commitment at Novotel London	337
Case study: British Airways: Improving value through self-service kiosks	340

Chapter 10 Service capacity management 343

Value contribution of capacity management	345
Services marketing in action 10.1: Managing service capacity by service communications	346
Gaps between service demand and capacity	347
Determinants of service capacity management	349
Services marketing in action 10.2: Shopping habits affected by football event	350
Options for managing service capacity	351
Services marketing in action 10.3: Demand level analysis for the foodservice industry	354
Services marketing in action 10.4: Ticketing procedure for Football World Championship 2006	360
Services marketing in action 10.5: Price-related capacity management at Germanwings	362
Services marketing in action 10.6: Yield management at American Airlines	367
Summary	368
Case study: Capacity adjustments at McDonald's	371

Chapter 11 Services marketing and the markets: Market strategies, international services marketing, service networks and service outsourcing 379

Market segment strategies	381
Market development through international services marketing	383
Services marketing in action 11.1: Cost and revenue synergies of international affairs at Air France-KLM	383
Services marketing in action 11.2: The rise and fall of coffee shops in Switzerland	385
Services marketing in action 11.3: International insurers going to China	386
Services marketing in action 11.4: Tesco's international success	389
Services marketing in action 11.5: The Big Mac Index	391
Strategies regarding other providers	392
Service outsourcing strategy	392
Services marketing in action 11.6: Citibank's technology outsourcing	393
Service network strategy	396

Services marketing in action 11.7: Advertising agency network of the year	397
Services marketing in action 11.8: The alliances battle	399
Summary	404
Case study: IKEA's globalisation strategy	407
Case study: Networking at Nexcom	408

Chapter 12 Services marketing and the service firm: Implementing and controlling services marketing 411

Value contribution of services marketing implementation and control	412
Implementing services marketing: Adapting a service firm's structure, systems and culture	413
Services marketing in action 12.1: Marketing decisions in the airline industry	416
Services marketing in action 12.2: Service profit responsibility at Reuters	417
Services marketing in action 12.3: Problems with implementing customer value orientations	423
Services marketing in action 12.4: Bonus culture in investment banks	426
Controlling services marketing: Assessing services marketing's value drivers	427
Services marketing in action 12.5: Value drivers of department stores	431
Services marketing in action 12.6: Application of the relationship blueprint	434
Summary	437
Case study: Value drivers in the airline industry	440

Glossary 442

Bibliography 449

Index 467

List of figures

Figure 1.1:	Learning objectives of Chapter 1	6
Figure 1.2:	Developmental stages of services marketing	10
Figure 1.3:	Services are processes	13
Figure 1.4:	Primary value processes	17
Figure 1.5:	Relationship of bonding and market share for UK grocery stores	19
Figure 1.6:	Typical Service Value Chain in the tourism industry	20
Figure 1.7:	Framework of value-oriented services marketing and outline of the book	23
Figure 1.8:	Learning summary for Chapter 1	25
Figure 2.1:	Service Value Chain and Service Profit Chain	32
Figure 2.2:	Learning objectives of Chapter 2	32
Figure 2.3:	Original Service Profit Chain	34
Figure 2.4:	Original and generalised Service Profit Chain	34
Figure 2.5:	Integration of Service Value Chain and Service Profit Chain	35
Figure 2.6:	Generic customer value components	37
Figure 2.7:	Calculation scheme for the customer contribution margin	40
Figure 2.8:	ABC-analysis based on customer sales	41
Figure 2.9:	Customer segments for a particular Scandinavian bank based on customer profitability and transaction volume	42
Figure 2.10:	CLV differences across industries	44
Figure 2.11:	Customer segmentation regarding customer behaviours	47
Figure 2.12:	GAP model of service quality	51
Figure 2.13:	Hierarchical structure of service quality dimensions	53
Figure 2.14:	SERVQUAL item battery	55
Figure 2.15:	Overview of expectation types	56
Figure 2.16:	Learning summary for Chapter 2	59
Figure 2.17:	Operationalisation of profit chain variables	62
Figure 2.18:	Relationships within the Service Profit Chain	63
Figure 2.19:	Service Profit Chain of Canadian Imperial Bank of Commerce (CIBC)	65
Figure 3.1:	Learning objectives of Chapter 3	73
Figure 3.2:	Examples of services with different challenges for initiating a service interaction	75
Figure 3.3:	Service encounter elements in service production	77
Figure 3.4:	Types of service encounters	78

Figure 3.5:	Examples of positive and negative critical incidents	79
Figure 3.6:	Measures for managing the customer roles	88
Figure 3.7:	Blueprint for a corner shoeshine	89
Figure 3.8:	Blueprint of a flight with an airline	92
Figure 3.9:	Effects of service failures	93
Figure 3.10:	Effects of service recovery	95
Figure 3.11:	Service recovery measures	100
Figure 3.12:	Evaluation of service recovery strategies	101
Figure 3.13:	Learning summary for Chapter 3	104
Figure 4.1:	Learning objectives of Chapter 4	110
Figure 4.2:	Value effects of a customer relationship	112
Figure 4.3:	Relationships and episodes of interactions	113
Figure 4.4:	Customer relationship lifecycle	115
Figure 4.5:	Empirical findings on profit generated per customer in different sectors	116
Figure 4.6:	Examples of service guarantees	119
Figure 4.7:	Customer retention activities	122
Figure 4.8:	Types of defection processes	131
Figure 4.9:	Critical path of a customer relationship	132
Figure 4.10:	Index of the ability to win back lost customers by UK companies	135
Figure 4.11:	Relationship value chain	137
Figure 4.12:	Measures to manage trust and familiarity	138
Figure 4.13:	Learning summary for Chapter 4	139
Figure 5.1:	The service product pyramid	147
Figure 5.2:	Learning objectives of Chapter 5	148
Figure 5.3:	Value chain of a food manufacturer	150
Figure 5.4:	Types of supplementary services	153
Figure 5.5:	E-services versus classical services	162
Figure 5.6:	Structure of a service programme	163
Figure 5.7:	The Sixt service programme	164
Figure 5.8:	Types of service innovations	168
Figure 5.9:	Service innovation process	174
Figure 5.10:	Forms of service prototyping	176
Figure 5.11:	Externalisation and internalisation	180
Figure 5.12:	Financial service elimination strategies	182
Figure 5.13:	Learning summary for Chapter 5	186
Figure 6.1:	Learning objectives of Chapter 6	192
Figure 6.2:	Forms of charges for current account and payments services	198
Figure 6.3:	Sample profile	201
Figure 6.4:	Multi-step synthetic service pricing	205
Figure 6.5:	Multi-step synthetic service pricing for a hotel	207
Figure 6.6:	Criteria for service price discrimination	209
Figure 6.7:	Points of time of banks introducing service bundling	213

Figure 10.4:	Options for managing service capacity	351
Figure 10.5:	Strategies for long-term capacity determination	355
Figure 10.6:	Options for short-term capacity adjustments	357
Figure 10.7:	Options for demand adjustments	359
Figure 10.8:	Types of waiting lines and their advantages and disadvantages	364
Figure 10.9:	Learning summary for Chapter 10	369
Figure 11.1:	Decisions regarding consumer and provider markets	380
Figure 11.2:	Learning objectives of Chapter 11	381
Figure 11.3:	Market segment strategies of a service provider	382
Figure 11.4:	Types of international penetration strategy	388
Figure 11.5:	Big Mac Index	391
Figure 11.6:	Value creation by service networks	398
Figure 11.7:	Alliances between airlines	400
Figure 11.8:	Capacity shares in the intercontinental airline market	400
Figure 11.9:	Partners of British Airways in the supply chain	402
Figure 11.10:	Dimensions of the quality of cooperation between firms	403
Figure 11.11:	Learning summary for Chapter 11	405
Figure 12.1:	Learning objectives of Chapter 12	412
Figure 12.2:	Model of a process organisation	419
Figure 12.3:	Example of a relationship process organisation	420
Figure 12.4:	Structure of customer information systems	421
Figure 12.5:	Examples of customer-oriented remuneration systems	423
Figure 12.6:	Types of company culture	425
Figure 12.7:	Instruments for managing company culture	426
Figure 12.8:	Categories of value drivers	429
Figure 12.9:	Structure of value drivers according to the Service Profit Chain	430
Figure 12.10:	Drivers of value-oriented services marketing	430
Figure 12.11:	Exemplary relationship blueprint and questions for identifying value drivers	434
Figure 12.12:	Learning summary for Chapter 12	437

Table 1.1:	Students' expenditure on services in the UK 2002/2003	5
Table 2.1:	Sample CLV calculation	43
Table 2.2:	Revenues of migration segments	46
Table 3.1:	Ranking of customers' problems with cruise operator	81
Table 5.1:	Switching reasons in 45 service industries	149
Table 5.2:	Reasons for innovations by German companies	168
Table 5.3:	Elimination reasons of financial service providers	183
Table 6.1:	Attributes and attribute levels of the recreation centre	202
Table 6.2:	Conjoint measurement results for the recreation centre	203
Table 7.1:	Characteristics of different service places	230
Table 7.2:	Differences between electronic delivery channels	252
Table 7.3:	Dimensions and attributes of call centre expectations	254
Table 7.4:	Channel preferences of bank customers	257
Table 8.1:	TOP 20 of Interbrand's brand equity ranking 2004	278
Table 8.2:	Results regarding the degree of integration in services advertising	295
Table 9.1:	Importance of hotel tangibles associated with cleanliness	323
Table 10.1:	Examples of demand gaps and consequences of capacity gaps	348
Table 10.2:	Typical long-term capacities in different service industries	353
Table 11.1:	International service industries	386
Table 11.2:	Steps of systematic service outsourcing	395

Figure 6.8:	Learning summary for Chapter 6	221
Figure 7.1:	Learning objectives of Chapter 7	227
Figure 7.2:	Criteria for decisions regarding service locations	237
Figure 7.3:	Location evaluation form by DoubleDave's pizza restaurant chain	240
Figure 7.4:	Dimensions of service timing	241
Figure 7.5:	One-to-one service delivery	246
Figure 7.6:	Types of service delivery multiplication	247
Figure 7.7:	Multiplication of personal service delivery without geographical extension	248
Figure 7.8:	Multiplication with geographical extension	249
Figure 7.9:	Electronic service delivery	251
Figure 7.10:	Learning summary for Chapter 7	261
Figure 8.1:	Learning objectives of Chapter 8	268
Figure 8.2:	Value contribution of service communications	269
Figure 8.3:	Value-oriented types of service communication	271
Figure 8.4:	Potential advertising opportunity wasted by banks each year compared to other industries	274
Figure 8.5:	Brand-related profit chain	277
Figure 8.6:	Consequences of consumers' behaviour according to the means-end approach	279
Figure 8.7:	Exemplar individual ladders	281
Figure 8.8:	Means-end ladder of the University of New Hampshire	282
Figure 8.9:	Types of service communication instruments	284
Figure 8.10:	Dimensions of personal communication quality	285
Figure 8.11:	Modes of nonverbal communication	286
Figure 8.12:	Options for customising internet communications	288
Figure 8.13:	Options of service communications for making services tangible	292
Figure 8.14:	Learning summary for Chapter 8	296
Figure 9.1:	Types of service resources	304
Figure 9.2:	Learning objectives of Chapter 9	305
Figure 9.3:	Internal and external Service Profit Chain	306
Figure 9.4:	Instruments of managing service employee behaviour	310
Figure 9.5:	Incentives for motivating service employees	318
Figure 9.6:	Value effects of service tangibles	319
Figure 9.7:	Types of service tangibles	321
Figure 9.8:	Value effects of service technologies	327
Figure 9.9:	Types of service technologies	330
Figure 9.10:	Issues of service technology implementation	332
Figure 9.11:	Learning summary for Chapter 9	335
Figure 10.1:	Learning objectives of Chapter 10	344
Figure 10.2:	Value effects of service capacity management	345
Figure 10.3:	Determinants of service capacity management decisions	349