

Contents

Preface: Truth and Reconciliation xiii

Acknowledgments xix

1. Gold, God, Race, and Slaves 1
2. Making Invisible Africans Visible: Coasts, Ports, Regions, and Ethnicities 22
3. The Clustering of African Ethnicities in the Americas 55
4. Greater Senegambia/Upper Guinea 80
5. Lower Guinea: Ivory Coast, Gold Coast, Slave Coast/Bight of Benin 101
6. Lower Guinea: The Bight of Biafra 126
7. Bantulands: West Central Africa and Mozambique 144

Conclusion: Implications for Culture Formation in the Americas 165

Appendix: Prices of Slaves by Ethnicity and Gender in Louisiana, 1719–1820 173

Notes 181

Bibliography 197

Index 213

Illustrations, Figures, Maps, and Tables

ILLUSTRATIONS

- Nok-Sokoto Culture, Nigeria, "Head of Court Figure" 3
- Women warriors parading before the Dahomey king and European men 14
- Mozambique Africans in Brazil 38
- West Central Africans in Brazil 39
- Different African "nations" in Brazil 40
- Men and women from Benguela and Kongo living in Brazil 41
- Africans taken as slaves in eighteenth-century Senegal 60
- Wooden collars used in the slave trade 61
- A slave coffle coming from the interior in Senegal 62
- Poster advertising the sale of Africans from Sierra Leone in Charleston, South Carolina 63
- Revolt aboard a slave ship, 1787 64
- Phillis Wheatley 91
- Job Ben Solomon 92
- Abdul Rahaman 93
- Akan Peoples, Baule Group, "Spirit Spouse (waka snan)" 103
- Edo Peoples, Benin Kingdom, "Hip Ornament in Form of Mask" 104
- Edo Peoples, Benin Kingdom, "Head of Oba" 106
- Mahommah Gardo Baquaqua 108
- Seventeenth-century musical instruments from the Gold Coast 109
- Olaudah Equiano 132
- Chokwe Peoples, School of Muzamba, "Seated Chief-Musician Playing the Sansa" 150
- Kongo Peoples, "Magical Figure (nkisi)" 151
- Bantu women cultivating the soil with hoes 155
- Princess Madia 162

FIGURES

- 3.1. Clustering of African Ethnicities in Louisiana Parishes, Spanish Period (1770–1803) 74
- 3.2. Clustering of African Ethnicities in Louisiana Parishes, Early U.S. Period (1804–1820) 75
- 4.1. Atlantic Slave Trade Voyages to South Carolina (1701–1807) 94
- 5.1. Mina in Louisiana by Gender (1760s–1810s) 118
- 6.1. Atlantic Slave Trade Voyages to Maryland and Virginia: Coasts of Origin over Time (1651–1775) 137
- 7.1. Kongo in Louisiana by Gender (1730s–1810s) 161

MAPS

- 1.1. Almoravid Dynasty, 1090–1146 5
- 2.1. African Ethnicities Prominent in South America, 1500–1900 24
- 2.2. African Ethnicities Prominent in North America and the Caribbean, 1500–1900 25
- 4.1. Greater Senegambia/Upper Guinea, 1500–1700 81
- 5.1. Lower Guinea West, 1500–1800 102
- 6.1. Lower Guinea East, 1600–1900 128
- 7.1. West and East Central Africa: Bantulands, 1500–1900 145

TABLES

- 2.1. Origin Information for Slaves in Louisiana Documents 33
- 2.2. Africans with “Nation” Designations Sold in Cuba, 1790–1880 35
- 2.3. Africans with Ethnic Designations Recorded on Cuban Sugar and Coffee Estates 36
- 2.4. Eighteen Most Frequent Ethnicities by Gender in Louisiana, 1719–1820 43
- 2.5. Distribution of African Names among Louisiana Slaves by Origin 53
- 3.1. Transatlantic Slave Trade Voyages Bringing Enslaved Africans to Rice-Growing Regions 68
- 3.2. Spanish Custom House List of Slaves Arriving in Louisiana from Caribbean Islands during 1786 73
- 3.3. Birthplace or Ethnicity of Slaves Arriving in Louisiana by Ship from East Coast Ports of the United States, 1804–1809 77
- 3.4. Mean Age of Africans in Louisiana, 1800–1820 78
- 4.1. Length of Slave Trade Voyages Arriving in Cartagena de Indias, 1595–1640 83

- 4.2. Voyages to Cartagena de Indias with Known African Provenance, 1595–1640 86
- 4.3. African Region of Origin of Peruvian Slaves Calculated from Ethnic Descriptions, 1560–1650 87
- 5.1. Transatlantic Slave Trade Voyages from the Gold Coast to British Colonies, 1650–1807 110
- 5.2. Major Ethnicities from the Bight of Benin in Louisiana by Decade 124
- 5.3. Gender Balance among Major Ethnicities from the Bight of Benin Recorded in Louisiana Documents, 1760–1820 125
- 6.1. Numbers, Percentages, and Gender Balance of Igbo Compared with Ibibio/Moko on Probated Estates in Guadeloupe, Louisiana, and St. Domingue/Haiti 131
- 6.2. Enslaved Africans Shipped from the Three Major Ports of the Bight of Biafra 133
- 6.3. African Ethnicities from the Bight of Biafra on British West Indies Registration Lists, 1813–1827 139
- 6.4. Africans from the Bight of Biafra Sold Independently of Probate in Louisiana, 1790–1820 140
- 7.1. Voyages to Cartagena de Indias and Veracruz from Identified African Coasts, 1595–1640 159
- 7.2. West Central Africans in the British West Indies 163
- A.1. Slaves Sold Independently of Probate in Louisiana, 1770–1820 174
- A.2. Mean Sale Price of the Five Most Frequently Found African Ethnicities in Louisiana 175
- A.3. Mean Price of Slaves by Ethnicity and Gender Inventoried on Estates in Louisiana over Time 176