

---

1. Introduction .....	5
2. A gender-sensitive approach to OSH? Findings and practice .....	7
2.1. Some findings from the Agency review of gender issues and safety and health at work .....	7
2.2. Women's working conditions in a new enlarged European Union: an overview of the foundation's data.....	9
2.3. OSH in workplace equality plans .....	10
2.4. A gender-sensitive approach to OSH research and monitoring.....	12
3. Gender sensitivity in OSH – the way forward in the EU .....	14
3.1. The challenges and opportunities from an equalities perspective .....	14
3.2. Gender mainstreaming and the role of the Community OSH strategy .....	14
3.3. A gender-sensitive approach to OSH prevention at workplace level .....	16
3.4. The TUTB study on gender sensitivity in occupational safety and health: some results and their implications.....	17
4. Developing a gender-sensitive approach to OSH – perspectives, experiences, discussion of problems, solutions and proposals .....	19
4.1. Perspectives.....	19
4.2. Challenges in taking gender issues in OSH forward .....	22
4.3. Proposals for taking gender issues in OSH forward.....	23
5. Closing remarks – common goals and cooperation .....	26
6. Further information .....	27

---