

Contents

		Page
Foreword		iii
Overview of Findings		v
Chapter I	Phoenix House: The Approach	1
	Introduction	1
	History	1
	Rehabilitation: The Perspective	2
	The Approach	3
	Induction, Phase I (1 to 30 days)	3
	Primary Treatment, Phase II (2 to 12 months of residency)	3
	Reentry, Phase III (13 to 24 months)	4
Chapter II	Methods	5
	Specific Research Aims	5
	The Sample	5
	Client Location	6
	Dispositions	7
	The Interview	8
	The Interview Protocol	8
	Social Adjustment Survey	8
	Psychological Testing	9
	Other Methodological Considerations	9
Chapter III	Social Adjustment Profiles: Drug Use, Crime, and Employment	11
	Statistical Analyses	11
	The 1970-71 Cohort: Profile Changes at 5-year Followup	11
	Drug Use Profile	11
	Criminal Profile	14
	Employment Profile	19
	The 1974 Cohort: Profile Changes at 2-Year Followup	21
	Drug Use Profile	21
	Criminal Profile	25
	Employment Profile	25
	Time in Program	25
	Cohort Comparisons	25
	Drug Use Profile	27
	Criminal Profile	28
	Employment Profile	29
	Summary of Significant Findings	29
Chapter IV	Social Adjustment: Success and Improvement Rates	30
	Program Criteria and Indices of Individual Change	30
	The Criminal Index (CrimDX)	30
	The Drug Index (DrugDX)	30
	The Employment Index (EmpDX)	30
	The Success Index	30
	Statistical Analyses	31
	Results	31
	The 1970-71 Cohort	31
	The 1974 Cohort	37
	Cohort Comparisons	41
	Summary of Significant Findings	41

	Page
Chapter V	Correlates of Social Adjustment 42
	Analysis 1: Social Adjustment Changes by Demography 42
	Profile Changes 42
	Analysis 2: Multiple Regression Analyses of Social Adjustment 42
	Results for the 1970-71 Cohort. 43
	Results for the 1974 Cohort 43
	Summary of Significant Findings 52
Chapter VI	Social Adjustment: Discussion 53
Chapter VII	Psychological Adjustment 55
	Sample 55
	Psychological Instruments 55
	Procedures 55
	Reliability and Validity 56
	Treatment of the Data 56
	Analysis 1: Psychological Change at Followup 56
	Results 56
	Analysis 2: Success Status and Psychological Adjustment 61
	Results 61
	Analysis 3: Success and Psychological Change During and Following Treatment 68
	Results 69
	Summary of Significant Findings 71
Chapter VIII	Correlates of Psychological Adjustment 72
	Analysis 1: Psychological Improvement by Demography and Drug of Abuse 72
	Analysis 2: Multivariate Analyses of Psychological Adjustment 72
	Results 73
	The Tennessee Self-Concept 78
	MMPI 78
	Psychopathology and Intelligence 78
	Summary of Significant Findings 81
Chapter IX	Psychological Adjustment: Discussion of Findings 82
Chapter X	Issues, Conclusions, and Implications 85
	Issues of Interpretation 85
	Control Groups 85
	Statistical and Behavioral Hypotheses 85
	Other Treatment Influences 85
	Social Climate Factors 86
	Client Factors 86
	Understanding Treatment Influences: A Perspective 86
	Some Implications for Treatment and Further Research 87
	Generalizability 87
	Cost-Benefit Analysis 87
	The Problem of Retention 87
	Individual Differences and Alternatives to Long-Term Residence 88
	Social Climate Factors and Treatment Effectiveness 88
References	89
Appendix	91