CONTENTS

About the Editors page vii
List of Contributors ix
Series Editors' Preface xiii
Preface xvii
Acknowledgements xix

PART I: GENERAL ISSUES 1

1 Recidivism risk assessments: making sense of controversies 3
Dennis M. Doren

2 Stability and change: dynamic risk factors for sexual offenders 17
R. Karl Hanson

3 Diagnostic problems with sexual offenders 33
William L. Marshall

4 The civil commitment of sexual offenders: lessons learned 45
Anita Schlank

5 Sadistic sexual aggressors 61
Jean Proulx, Etienne Blais and Éric Beauregard

6 Online sexuality and online sexual problems: skating on thin ice 79
Al Cooper, Gale Golden and William L. Marshall

7 An attachment-theoretical revision of Marshall and Barbaree's Integrated theory of the etiology of sexual offending 93
Stephen W. Smallbone

8 Coping and mood in sexual offending 109
Geris A. Serran and Liam E. Marshall

9 Shame and guilt in child molesters 125
Michael Proeve and Kevin Howells

PART II: TREATMENT 141

10 New ideas in the treatment of sexual offenders 143
Tony Ward and Dawn Fisher

11 Sexual offender treatment for psychopaths: is it harmful? 159
Howard Barbaree, Calvin Langton and Edward Peacock

12 Schema-driven cognition in sexual offenders: theory, assessment and treatment 173
Ruth E. Mann and Jo Shingler

13 Focusing on the positive and avoiding negativity in sexual offender treatment 187
Yolanda M. Fernandez

14 Preparatory programs for sexual offenders 199
Liam E. Marshall and Heather M. Moulden

15 Putting "behavior" back into the cognitive-behavioral treatment of sexual offenders 211
Yolanda M. Fernandez, Jo Shingler and William L. Marshall

16 Collaboration in clinical work with sexual offenders: treatment and risk assessment 225
Jo Shingler and Ruth E. Mann

17 When one size doesn't fit all: the reformulation of relapse prevention 241
D. Richard Laws and Tony Ward

18 Appraising treatment outcome with sexual offenders 255
William L. Marshall

19 Conclusions and future directions 275

Index 279