

PART I: INTRODUCTION TO ORGANIZATIONAL BEHAVIOR 1

1. The Field of Organizational Behavior 1

PART II: BASIC HUMAN PROCESSES 37

2. Perception and Learning: Understanding and Adapting to the Work Environment 37
3. Individual Differences: Personality and Abilities 79
4. Emotions and Stress on the Job 113

PART III: THE INDIVIDUAL IN THE ORGANIZATION 145

5. Work-Related Attitudes: Feelings About Jobs, Organizations, and People 145
6. Motivation in Organizations 188
7. Career Dynamics 227

PART IV: GROUP DYNAMICS 271

8. Group Processes and Work Teams 271
9. Communication in Organizations 316
10. Decision Making in Organizations 357
11. Interpersonal Behavior: Working with and Against Others 403

PART V: INFLUENCING OTHERS 436

12. Influence, Power, and Politics in Organizations 436
13. Leadership in Organizations 469
14. Organizational Culture, Creativity, and Innovation 513

PART VI: ORGANIZATIONAL PROCESSES 547

15. Organizational Structure and Design 547
16. Managing Organizational Change: Strategic Planning and Organizational Development 586

APPENDIX

- I. Theory and Research: Tools for Learning About Behavior in Organizations 623

Notes 637

Glossary 661

Photo Credits 673

Company Index 675

Name Index 679

Subject Index 681

PART I: INTRODUCTION TO ORGANIZATIONAL BEHAVIOR 1

Chapter 1: The Field of Organizational Behavior 1

■ PREVIEW CASE: PHARMACIA: WHERE PEOPLE ARE THE PRESCRIPTION FOR SUCCESS 1

Organizational Behavior: Its Basic Nature 3

What Is the Field of Organizational Behavior All About? 4 ■ Why Is It Important to Know About OB? 6

What Are the Field's Fundamental Assumptions? 8

OB Recognizes the Dynamic Nature of Organizations 8 ■ OB Assumes There Is No "One Best" Approach 9

OB Then and Now: A Capsule History 9

The Early Days: Scientific Management and the Hawthorne Studies 9 ■ Classical Organizational Theory 10 ■ Late Twentieth Century: Organizational Behavior as a Social Science 12 ■ OB Today: The Infotech Age 12

OB Responds to the Rise of Globalization and Diversity 13

International Business and the Global Economy 13 ■ The Shifting Demographics of the Workforce: Trends Toward Diversity 17

OB Responds to Advances in Technology 19

Leaner Organizations: Downsizing and Outsourcing 20 ■ The Virtual Corporation: A Network of Temporary Organizations 22 ■ Telecommuting: Going to Work Without Leaving Home 22

OB Responds to People's Changing Expectations 23

In Search of Flexibility: Responding to Needs of Employees 23 ■ The Quality Revolution 27 ■ Corporate Social Responsibility: The (Sometimes) Ethical Organization 28

Summary and Review of Learning Objectives 31

Points to Ponder 32

Developing OB Skills 33

Case in Point: There's No Business Like Shoyu Business 35

■ Special Sections

OB IN A DIVERSE WORLD: Iceland Unplugged—and Thriving 14

BEST PRACTICES: Employee Support Policies 18

PART II: BASIC HUMAN PROCESSES 37

Chapter 2: Perception and Learning: Understanding and Adapting to the Work Environment 37

PREVIEW CASE: PREPARING SALES REPS FOR THE “REAL WHIRLED” 37

Social Perception and Social Identity: Understanding Others and Ourselves 38

Social Perception: What Are Others Like? 39 ■ Social Identity Theory: Who Are You? 40

The Attribution Process: Judging the Causes of Others’ Behavior 41

Making Correspondent Inferences: Using Acts to Judge Dispositions 41 ■ Causal Attribution of Responsibility: Answering the Question “Why?” 42

The Imperfect Nature of Social Perception 43

Stereotypes: Fitting Others into Categories 44 ■ Perceptual Biases: Systematic Errors in Perceiving Others 46 ■ Self-Fulfilling Prophecies: The Pygmalion Effect and the Golem Effect 48

Perceiving Others: Organizational Applications 50

Performance Appraisal: Formal Judgments About Job Performance 50 ■ Impression Management in the Employment Interview: Looking Good to Prospective Employers 52 ■ Corporate Image: Impression Management by Organizations 53

Learning: Adapting to the World Around Us 55

Operant Conditioning: Learning Through Rewards and Punishments 56 ■ Observational Learning: Learning by Imitating Others 59

Applications of Learning in Organizations 60

Training: Learning and Developing Job Skills 61 ■ Innovative Reward Systems: Going Beyond Merit Pay 64 ■ Organizational Behavior Management: Positively Reinforcing Desirable Organizational Behaviors 66 ■ Discipline: Eliminating Undesirable Organizational Behaviors 67 ■ Knowledge Management: Sharing What Is Known 70

Summary and Review of Learning Objectives 72

Points to Ponder 74

Developing OB Skills 75

Case in Point: Finding a Safe Way to Smile at Safeway 77

Special Sections

HOW TO DO IT: Overcoming Bias in Social Perception 49

OB IN A DIVERSE WORLD: Performance Evaluations: Comparing the United States and Japan 52

OB IN AN E-WORLD: E-Training: Booming—But Beware 64

BEST PRACTICES: Using 360-Degree Feedback: Three Profiles 68

Chapter 3: Individual Differences: Personality and Abilities 79

PREVIEW CASE: THE LIFE OF THE PARTY? 79

Personality: What It Is and How It Is Measured 81

Defining Personality 81 ■ The Role of Personality in Organizational Behavior 81 ■ How Do We Measure Personality? 83

Key Work-Related Aspects of Personality 85

The Big Five Dimensions of Personality: Our Most Fundamental Traits 85 ■ Positive and Negative Affectivity: Tendencies Toward Feeling Good or Bad 87 ■ Two Aspects of the Self: Self-Efficacy and Self-Monitoring 88

Additional Work-Related Aspects of Personality 92

Machiavellianism: Using Others to Get Ahead 92 ■ The Type A Behavior Pattern: Being in a Hurry—and Irritable—Can Be Costly to Your Health 94 ■ Achievement Motivation: The Quest for Excellence 95 ■ Morning Persons and Evening Persons: “Oh, How I Hate to Get Up in the . . .” 98

Abilities: Having What It Takes 100

Intellectual Abilities: Various Forms of Intelligence 100 ■ Physical Abilities 105

Summary and Review of Learning Objectives 106

Points to Ponder 107

Developing OB Skills 109

Case in Point: Nancy’s Quiche: Where People Skills Really Matter 111

■ Special Sections

BEST PRACTICES: Increasing Self-Efficacy Among Employees 90

OB IN A DIVERSE WORLD: Achievement Motivation and Economic Growth 98

HOW TO DO IT: Coping with the “Graveyard Shift” 99

OB IN AN E-WORLD: Are Face-to-Face Meetings Obsolete? For Some Purposes and Some People, the Answer is “Yes” 102

Chapter 4: Emotions and Stress on the Job 113

■ PREVIEW CASE: SEPH BARNARD: AN ENTREPRENEUR “TIRED AND TRUE” 113

Emotions and Mood in Organizations 114

The Basic Nature of Emotions 115 ■ The Basic Nature of Mood 116 ■ Emotions, Mood, and Job Performance 117

Managing Emotions in Organizations 118

Emotional Dissonance and Emotional Labor 118 ■ Organizational Compassion: Managing Emotion in Times of Trauma 119

Stress in Organizations 121

What Is Stress? 121 ■ Causes of Stress in the Workplace 122 ■ Major Effects of Organizational Stress 128

Reducing Stress: What Can Be Done? 131

Organizational Resources for Managing Stress 131 ■ How Can You Manage Your Own Stress? 132 ■ Putting It All Together: Three Major Approaches to Reducing Stress 136

Summary and Review of Learning Objectives 138

Points to Ponder 139

Developing OB Skills 140

Case in Point: Parenthood and Dot-Coms: A Recipe for Stress 142

Video Case: Stress 144

■ Special Sections

OB IN AN E-WORLD: Using “Emoticons” to Express Emotions in E-Mail: Do Those Smiley Faces Make Any Difference? 116

HOW TO DO IT: Coping with the Emotional Fallout of Terrorism: How Can Companies Help? 120

OB IN A DIVERSE WORLD: Who’s More Stressed Out: Men or Women? 132

BEST PRACTICES: Fighting the Battle Against Stress 134

Chapter 5: Work-Related Attitudes: Feelings About Jobs, Organizations, and People 145

■ PREVIEW CASE: "ISLAM 101": BASIC TRAINING AT FORD AFTER SEPTEMBER 11 145

Attitudes: What Are They? 147

Three Essential Components of Attitudes 147 ■ Basic Definitions 148

Job Satisfaction: Attitudes Toward One's Job 148

Are People Generally Satisfied with Their Jobs? 148 ■ Measuring Job Satisfaction: Assessing Reactions to Work 151 ■ Theories of Job Satisfaction 153

Consequences of Job Dissatisfaction 156

Absenteeism 156 ■ Turnover 156 ■ Task Performance: Are Happy Workers Productive Workers? 158 ■ Guidelines for Promoting Job Satisfaction 159

Organizational Commitment: Feelings of Attachment Toward Organizations 160

Varieties of Organizational Commitment 161 ■ Why Strive for a Committed Workforce? 163 ■ Approaches to Developing Organizational Commitment 164

Prejudice: Negative Attitudes Toward Others 168

Prejudice Versus Discrimination: A Key Distinction 168 ■ The Reality of Diversity and the Problems of Prejudice 169

Everyone Can Be a Victim of Prejudice 169

Prejudice Based on Age 170 ■ Prejudice Based on Physical Condition 170 ■ Prejudice Against Women 171 ■ Prejudice Based on Sexual Orientation 172 ■ Prejudice Based on Race and National Origin 173 ■ Prejudice Based on Religion 173

Managing a Diverse Workforce: Current Practices 175

Do Companies Care About Diversity? 175 ■ What Are Today's Companies Doing About Diversity? 175 ■ Varieties of Diversity Management Programs 177 ■ Diversity Management Is Generally Effective 180

Summary and Review of Learning Objectives 181

Points to Ponder 183

Developing OB Skills 184

Case in Point: Texaco Yesterday Versus Today: Now, Only the Oil Is Crude 186

■ Special Sections

OB IN A DIVERSE WORLD: Absenteeism: Same Behavior, Different Meaning in Different Countries 164

OB IN AN E-WORLD: Gripe Sites: Where Dissatisfied Workers Go to Cyber-Vent and Good Managers Go to Learn 166

BEST PRACTICES: The Very Best at Diversity: Pacific Enterprises 178

HOW TO DO IT: Avoiding Pitfalls in Diversity Management 180

Chapter 6: Motivation in Organizations 188

■ PREVIEW CASE: PAULA LAWLOR: NOT YOUR ORDINARY CEO 188

Motivation in Organizations: Its Basic Nature 190

Components of Motivation 190 ■ Three Key Points About Motivation 191

Motivating by Meeting Needs 192

Maslow's Need Hierarchy Theory 192 ■ Alderfer's ERG Theory 194 ■ Managerial Applications of Need Theories 195

Motivating by Setting Goals 196

Goal-Setting Theory 196 ■ Managers' Guidelines for Setting Effective Performance Goals 197

Motivating by Being Fair: Organizational Justice 200

Distributive Justice: Equity Theory 201 ■ Procedural Justice: Making Decisions Fairly 204 ■ Interactional Justice 205 ■ Organizational Justice: Some Motivational Tips for Managers 205

Motivating by Altering Expectations 207

Basic Elements of Expectancy Theory 207 ■ Managerial Applications of Expectancy Theory 209

Motivating by Structuring Jobs to Make Them Interesting 212

Job Enlargement and Job Enrichment 213 ■ The Job Characteristics Model 214 ■ Techniques for Designing Jobs That Motivate: Some Managerial Guidelines 218

Summary and Review of Learning Objectives 219

Points to Ponder 221

Developing OB Skills 221

Case in Point: Wal-Mart: Everyday Motivated Employees 224

Video Case: Motivating Employees 226

■ Special Sections

BEST PRACTICES: Meeting Needs in High Style 198

OB IN A DIVERSE WORLD: Why Do Americans Work Longer Hours Than Germans? 210

OB IN AN E-WORLD: Incentive Stock Options at Dot-Coms: Then and Now 214

HOW TO DO IT: Making Autonomy Work 218

Chapter 7: Career Dynamics 227

■ PREVIEW CASE: FOR TODAY'S M.B.A.'S, JOB CHOICE IS DOT-COMPLICATED 227

The Basic Nature of Careers 228

What Is a Career? 228 ■ Today's Careers Are Not What They Used to Be 230 ■ Types of Careers 233 ■ Career Stages 236

Making Career Choices 237

Holland's Theory of Vocational Choice 237 ■ Career Anchors 240 ■ Job Opportunities 241

Organizational Socialization: Learning the Ropes 241

Anticipatory Socialization: Avoiding Entry Shock with Realistic Job Previews 241 ■ The Encounter Stage 244 ■ The Metamorphosis Stage 244

Mentoring: Socializing People Individually 245

Development of the Mentoring Process 245 ■ Benefits and Costs of Mentoring 246 ■ Mentoring Members of Diverse Groups 248

Challenges in Established Careers 248

Confronting the Career Plateau 249 ■ Making Career Changes 250 ■ Planning for Succession and Retirement 253

Personal Challenges and Strategies for Career Management 256

Job Rotation 256 ■ Entrepreneurship: Should You Start Your Own Business? 257 ■ Starting a Home-Based Business 259 ■ The Glass Ceiling: A Career Challenge for Women 261 ■ Dealing with the Dual Career 262 ■ Hiring a Career Coach 264

Summary and Review of Learning Objectives 264

Points to Ponder 266

Developing OB Skills 266

Case in Point: Toal's Career Takes Its Toll 269

■ Special Sections

OB IN A DIVERSE WORLD: Lifetime Employment: Why It Exists—and Still Works—in Japan 232

OB IN AN E-WORLD: Making Connections in Cyberspace: Online Networking 252

HOW TO DO IT: Tips on Finding a New Job 254

BEST PRACTICES: Helping Entrepreneurs Make It B.I.G. 260

■ PART IV: GROUP DYNAMICS 271

Chapter 8: Group Processes and Work Teams 271

■ PREVIEW CASE: PEOPLE POWER AT CONSOLIDATED DIESEL 271

Groups at Work: Their Basic Nature 273

What Is a Group? A Working Definition 273 ■ Types of Groups 274 ■ Why Do People Join Groups? 275 ■ How Groups Are Formed 277

The Structural Dynamics of Work Groups 279

Roles: The Hats We Wear 279 ■ Norms: A Group's Unspoken Rules 280 ■ Status: The Prestige of Group Membership 281 ■ Cohesiveness: Getting the Team Spirit 283

Individual Performance in Groups 284

Social Facilitation: Working in the Presence of Others 284 ■ Social Loafing: "Free Riding" When Working with Others 287

Teams: Special Kinds of Groups 291

Defining Teams and Distinguishing Teams from Groups 291 ■ Types of Teams 293 ■ Creating Teams: A Four-Stage Process 299

Effective Team Performance 300

How Successful Are Teams? A Look at the Evidence 300 ■ Potential Obstacles to Success: Why Some Teams Fail 302

How to Develop Successful Teams 303

Provide Training in Team Skills 303 ■ Compensate Team Performance 305 ■ Provide Support 305 ■ Communicate the Urgency of the Team's Mission 307 ■ Promote Cooperation Within and Between Teams 308 ■ Select Team Members Based on Their Skills or Potential Skills 308 ■ A Cautionary Note: Developing Successful Teams Requires Patience 308

Summary and Review of Learning Objectives 309

Points to Ponder 310

Developing OB Skills 311

Case in Point: A Team Approach to Selling at Cutler-Hammer 313

Video Case: Work Groups 315

■ Special Sections

OB IN A DIVERSE WORLD: Performance in Culturally Diverse Groups 290

HOW TO DO IT: Learning from High-Performance Teams 294

BEST PRACTICES: SEI Investments: Where Total Teamwork Rules 298

OB IN AN E-WORLD: Extreme Team Building: A Metaphor for the Internet Economy 306

Chapter 9: Communication in Organizations 316

■ PREVIEW CASE: US WEST: INFORMATION SHARING IN REAL TIME 316

Communication: Its Basic Nature 318

Communication: A Working Definition and Description of the Process 318

The Fundamental Role of Communication in Organizations 320

Verbal Communication: Sharing Messages with Words 321

Traditional Verbal Media Vary in Richness 322 ■ Computer-Mediated Communication 323 ■ Matching the Medium to the Message 324

Nonverbal Communication: Communicating Without Words 325

Style of Dress: Communicating by Appearance 326 ■ Time: The Waiting Game 327 ■ The Use of Space: What Does It Say About You? 328

Individual Differences in Communication 329

Personal Communication Style 329 ■ Gender Differences in Communication: Do Women and Men Communicate Differently? 331 ■ Cross-Cultural Differences in Communication 332

Formal and Informal Communication in Organizations 332

Formal Communication: Up, Down, and Across the Organizational Chart 333 ■ Informal Communication Networks: Behind the Organizational Chart 336 ■ Communicating Inside Versus Outside the Organization 339

Improving Your Communication Skills 340

Use Simple, Clear Language 341 ■ Become an Active, Attentive Listener 341 ■ Gauge the Flow of Information: Avoiding Overload 343 ■ Give and Receive Feedback: Opening Channels of Communication 345 ■ Be a Supportive Communicator: Enhancing Relationships 347 ■ Use Inspirational Communication Tactics 348

Summary and Review of Learning Objectives 350

Points to Ponder 352

Developing OB Skills 353

Case in Point: Physician Sales & Service: Where Keeping Up with Policies Is More Fun Than Any Policy Manual 355

■ Special Sections

OB IN AN E-WORLD: The Spam Problem: Costlier Than You May Think 320

OB IN A DIVERSE WORLD: "Hola and Hello": Welcome to StarMedia's

Trilingual Webcast 324

OB IN A DIVERSE WORLD: Promoting Cross-Cultural Communication 334

HOW TO DO IT: Communicating the Ultimate Organizational Bad News: "You're Fired!" 336

BEST PRACTICES: Mistake of the Month 348

Chapter 10: Decision Making in Organizations 357

■ PREVIEW CASE: THE ENRON-ARTHUR ANDERSEN SCANDAL: DECISION MAKING GONE AWRY 357

The Nature of Decision Making 359

A General, Analytical Model of the Decision-Making Process 359 ■ The Broad Spectrum of Organizational Decisions 361

Factors Affecting Decisions in Organizations 365

Decision Style: Individual Differences in Decision Making 365 ■ Group Influences: A Matter of Trade-Offs 368 ■ Organizational Barriers to Effective Decisions 369 ■ Cultural Differences in Decision Making 370 ■ Time Pressure: Making Decisions in Emergencies 371

How Are Individual Decisions Made? 373

The Rational-Economic Model: In Search of the Ideal Decision 373 ■ The Administrative Model: The Limits of Human Rationality 373 ■ Image Theory: An Intuitive Approach to Decision Making 374

Imperfections in Individual Decisions 375

Framing Effects 376 ■ Reliance on Heuristics 378

The Inherently Biased Nature of Individual Decisions 378

Bias Toward Implicit Favorites 379 ■ Hindsight Bias 379 ■ Person Sensitivity Bias 380 ■ Escalation of Commitment Bias 381

Group Decisions: Do Too Many Cooks Spoil the Broth? 383

When Are Groups Superior to Individuals? 383 ■ When Are Individuals Superior to Groups? 385

Traditional Techniques for Improving the Effectiveness of Decisions 385

Techniques for Improving Individual Decision Making 386 ■ Techniques for Enhancing Group Decisions 389

Computer-Based Approaches to Promoting Effective Decisions 393

Electronic Meetings 393 ■ Computer-Assisted Communication 393 ■ Group Decision Support Systems 395

Summary and Review of Learning Objectives 396

Points to Ponder 397

Developing OB Skills 398

Case in Point: Keeping the New Orleans Saints Marching Down the Field 401

■ Special Sections

BEST PRACTICES: Naval Officers Use Decision Support Systems to Make Combat Decisions 362

OB IN AN E-WORLD: Adaptive Agents as Decision Aids 366

HOW TO DO IT: Strategies for Avoiding Groupthink 370

OB IN A DIVERSE WORLD: Are U.S. Businesses Overly Concerned About Ethical Decisions? 388

Chapter 11: Interpersonal Behavior: Working With and Against Others 403

■ PREVIEW CASE: A VENTI CUP OF TRUST BREWS AT STARBUCKS 403

The Dynamics of Interpersonal Relationships 405

Psychological Contracts: Our Expectations of Others 405 ■ The Importance of Trust in Relationships 406

Prosocial Behavior: Helping Others 408

Organizational Citizenship Behavior: Above and Beyond Job Requirements 409 ■ Whistle-Blowing: Helping Through Dissent 410

Cooperation: Providing Mutual Assistance 412

Pure Competition Occurs Rarely 412 ■ Determinants of Cooperation 413 ■ Cooperation Between Organizations 414

Conflict: The Inevitable Result of Incompatible Interests 416

Causes of Conflict 416 ■ Consequences of Conflict: Both Negative and Positive 417

Managing Organizational Conflict 419

Negotiating Win-Win Solutions 419 ■ Alternative Dispute Resolution 420

Deviant Organizational Behavior 422

Varieties of Deviant Behavior 423 ■ Workplace Aggression: Physical or Verbal Abuse and Bullying 424 ■ Employee Theft 429

Summary and Review of Learning Objectives 430

Points to Ponder 431

Developing OB Skills 432

Case in Point: The True Story of George, the "Paraillegal" 434

■ Special Sections

HOW TO DO IT: Being an Effective Whistle-Blower 413

BEST PRACTICES: Integrative Agreements as Solutions to Organizational Conflicts 422

OB IN A DIVERSE WORLD: Negotiating Tactics in the United States, Germany, and Japan 424

OB IN AN E-WORLD: Cyberloafing: Deviant Behavior Goes High Tech 426

PART V: INFLUENCING OTHERS 436

Chapter 12: Influence, Power, and Politics in Organizations 436

■ PREVIEW CASE: THE MAN WHO SWALLOWED CHRYSLER 436

Social Influence: A Basic Organizational Process 438

Social Influence, Power, and Politics: Their Basic Nature 438 ■ Tactics of Social Influence: Getting to “Yes” 439 ■ Other Tactics of Influence 441

Individual Power: A Basis for Influence 443

Position Power: Influence That Comes with the Office 443 ■ Personal Power: Influence That Comes from the Individual 445 ■ Power: How Is It Used? 447 ■ Empowerment: The Shifting Bases of Power in Today’s Organizations 448 ■ Employees’ Reactions to Empowerment: Always Positive? 449

Group or Subunit Power: Structural Determinants 450

The Resource-Dependency Model: Controlling Critical Resources 451 ■ The Strategic Contingencies Model: Power Through Dependence 453

Organizational Politics: Power in Action 454

The Antecedents of Politics: Why and When It Occurs 455 ■ Political Tactics: What Forms Do They Take? 457 ■ Organizational Politics: Its Effects 458

The Ethics of Organizational Politics 459

What, If Anything, Is Unethical About Organizational Politics? 459 ■ Assessing the Ethics of Political Behavior 461

Summary and Review of Learning Objectives 463

Points to Ponder 464

Developing OB Skills 465

Case in Point: The Smith Brothers: A Low-Key Approach to Gaining—and Keeping—Organizational Power 468

■ Special Sections

OB IN AN E-WORLD: Download Time: Is It Always a Negative for Companies Doing E-Business? 440

HOW TO DO IT: Protecting Yourself from Unwanted Influence 442

BEST PRACTICES: Joe Torre: The Yankees’ Power Hitter without a Bat 446

OB IN A DIVERSE WORLD: Empowerment in Low Power Distance and High Power Distance Cultures 450

Chapter 13: Leadership in Organizations 469

■ PREVIEW CASE: URBAN BOX OFFICE LOSES ITS LEADER, THEN THE BUSINESS 469

The Nature of Leadership 470

Leadership: A Working Definition 470 ■ Leaders Versus Managers: A Key Distinction—At Least in Theory 471

The Trait Approach to Leadership: Having the Right Stuff 472

The Great Person Theory 473 ■ What Are the Characteristics of Great Leaders? 473

Leadership Behavior: What Do Leaders Do? 474

Participative Versus Autocratic Leadership Behaviors 475 ■ Person-Oriented Versus Production-Oriented Leaders 477 ■ Developing Successful Leadership Behavior: Grid Training 478

Leaders and Followers 479

The Leader–Member Exchange (LMX) Model: The Importance of Being in the “In-Group” 480 ■ The Challenge of Leading Work Teams 481 ■ The Attribution Approach: Leaders’ Explanations of Followers’ Behavior 484

Change-Oriented Leadership: Future Visions 485

Charismatic Leadership: That “Something Special” 486 ■ Transformational Leadership: Beyond Charisma 488

Contingency Theories of Leader Effectiveness 490

LPC Contingency Theory: Matching Leaders and Tasks 491 ■ Situational Leadership Theory: Adjusting Leadership Style to the Situation 493 ■ Path-Goal Theory: Leaders as Guides to Valued Goals 494 ■ Normative Decision Theory: The Right Time for Employee Participation 495 ■ Substitutes for Leadership: When Leaders Are Superfluous 500

Leadership Development: Bringing Out the Leader Within You 502

360-Degree Feedback 503 ■ Networking 504 ■ Executive Coaching 504 ■ Mentoring 506 ■ Job Assignments 506 ■ Action Learning 507

Summary and Review of Learning Objectives 507

Points to Ponder 509

Developing OB Skills 509

Case in Point: Chan Suh: Not Your Typical Advertising Executive—Yet 512

■ Special Sections

HOW TO DO IT: Boosting Cultural Intelligence 475

BEST PRACTICES: Coaching: From Locker Room to Boardroom 496

OB IN AN E-WORLD: Leading in the Digital Age 502

OB IN A DIVERSE WORLD: Guanxi: Social Networking in China 504

Chapter 14: Organizational Culture, Creativity, and Innovation 513

■ PREVIEW CASE: SULLIVAN PARK: WHERE CORNING INVENTS THE FUTURE 513

The Basic Nature of Organizational Culture 515

Organizational Culture: A Definition and Core Characteristics 515 ■ Cultures Within Organizations: One or Many? 518 ■ The Role of Culture in Organizations 518

Identifying Organizational Cultures: The Double S Cube 518

Two Underlying Dimensions of Organizational Culture 519 ■ Four Organizational Cultures 520 ■ Interpreting Organizational Culture 521

Creating and Sustaining Organizational Culture 522

How Is Organizational Culture Created? 522 ■ Tools for Transmitting Culture 523

Organizational Culture: Its Consequences and Capacity to Change 526

The Effects of Organizational Culture 526 ■ Why and How Does Organizational Culture Change? 528

Creativity in Individuals and Teams 529

Components of Individual and Team Creativity 530 ■ A Model of the Creative Process 532

Promoting Creativity in Organizations 533

Training People to Be Creative 533 ■ Developing Creative Work Environments 533

The Process of Innovation 536

Components of Innovation: Basic Building Blocks 536 ■ Stages of the Organizational Innovation Process 538

Summary and Review of Learning Objectives 540

Points to Ponder 542

Developing OB Skills 543

Case in Point: IDEO: Where Silliness Is Taken Seriously 545

■ Special Sections

OB IN AN E-WORLD: Today, High-Tech Start-Ups Fill the Spirit Rather Than the Bank Account 516

HOW TO DO IT: Boosting Creativity by Making Jobs Intrinsically Interesting 534

OB IN A DIVERSE WORLD: Where in the World Is Entrepreneurial Creativity Promoted? 536

BEST PRACTICES: How Effective Companies Inspire Innovation 540

PART VI: ORGANIZATIONAL PROCESSES 547

Chapter 15: Organizational Structure and Design 547

■ PREVIEW CASE: VF CORP. SEWS TOGETHER ITS OPERATIONS 547

Organizational Structure: The Basic Dimensions of Organizations 548

Hierarchy of Authority: Up and Down the Organizational Ladder 550 ■ Division of Labor: Carving Up the Jobs 551 ■ Span of Control: Breadth of Responsibility 552
Line Versus Staff Positions: Decision Makers Versus Advisors 553 ■ Decentralization: Delegating Power Downward 554

Departmentalization: Ways of Structuring Organizations 555

Functional Organizations: Departmentalization by Task 555 ■ Product Organizations: Departmentalization by Type of Output 556 ■ Matrix Organizations: Departmentalization by Both Function and Product 558

Organizational Design: Coordinating the Structural Elements of Organizations 560

Classical and Neoclassical Approaches: The Quest for the One Best Design 561 ■ The Contingency Approach: Design According to Environmental Conditions 562 ■ Mintzberg's Framework: Five Organizational Forms 566 ■ The Boundaryless Organization: A New Corporate Architecture 568

Interorganizational Designs: Going Beyond the Single Organization 572

Conglomerates: Diversified "Megacorporations" 573 ■ Strategic Alliances: Joining Forces for Mutual Benefit 574

Summary and Review of Learning Objectives 578

Points to Ponder 580

Developing OB Skills 581

Case in Point: Ameritech and Random House Join Forces on Emerging Technology 583

Video Case: Organizational Structure 585

■ Special Sections

HOW TO DO IT: Designing High-Tech Organizations with Flexibility in Mind 559

BEST PRACTICES: Horizontal Organizations: Structuring by Process 562

OB IN AN E-WORLD: When Should an Organization Go Virtual? 572

OB IN A DIVERSE WORLD: Joint Ventures in China: Beware of Obstacles 576

Chapter 16: Managing Organizational Change: Strategic Planning and Organizational Development 586

■ PREVIEW CASE: MAKING CHANGE AT THE U.S. MINT 586

The Prevalence of Change in Organizations 588

The Message Is Clear: Change or Disappear! 588 ■ Change Is a Global Phenomenon 590

The Nature of the Change Process 590

Targets: What Is Changed? 590 ■ Forces Behind Unplanned Organizational Change 593

Strategic Planning: Deliberate Change 595

Basic Assumptions About Strategic Planning 595 ■ About What Do Companies Make Strategic Plans? 596 ■ The 10 Steps of the Strategic Planning Process 598

Resistance to Change: Maintaining the Status Quo 601

Individual Barriers to Change 601 ■ Organizational Barriers to Change 602 ■ Readiness for Change: When Will Organizational Change Occur? 603 ■ How Can Resistance to Organizational Change Be Overcome? 604

Organizational Development Interventions: Implementing Planned Change 607

Management by Objectives: Clarifying Organizational Goals 607 ■ Survey Feedback: Inducing Change by Sharing Information 609 ■ Appreciative Inquiry 610 Action Labs 611 ■ Quality of Work Life Programs: Humanizing the Workplace 612

Critical Questions About Organizational Development 613

The Effectiveness of Organizational Development: Does It Really Work? 613 ■ Is Organizational Development Dependent on National Culture? 614 ■ Is Organizational Development Inherently Unethical? 616

Summary and Review of Learning Objectives 617

Points to Ponder 618

Developing OB Skills 619

Case in Point: GM Is Driven to Change—And the Chevrolet SSR Is the Vehicle 621

Video Case: Organizational Change 622

■ Special Sections

OB IN A DIVERSE WORLD: Strategic Values: More American Than Universal 602

HOW TO DO IT: Making Changes Stick: Tips from Three Established Organizations 608

OB IN AN E-WORLD: Using Online Competitive Intelligence for Organizational Change 610

BEST PRACTICES: Simulating Organizational Change 614

Appendix I: Theory and Research: Tools for Learning About Behavior in Organizations 623

Notes 637

Glossary 661

Photo Credits 673

Company Index 675

Name Index 679

Subject Index 681