

Contents

Abstract	5 - 6
Acknowledgements	7 - 8
Contents	9 - 10
Preface by Prof. Seyyed Hossein Nasr	11 - 15
Introduction:	16 - 30
The Scope of the Present Book
The Scholarly Understanding of the Structure of the Mathnawi
The Further Investigation of the Structure of the Mathnawi is Necessary
The Organisation of the Present Book
On a Personal Note
Chapter One: Methodology and Hypothesis	31 - 69
The Mathnawi as known
The problem of Structure
Some Methodological Considerations
Synoptic Reading and the Principles of Parallelism and Chiasmus
Rhetorical Latency and the Confessions of Augustine (354-430 CE.)
Two Iranian Exemplars
Hypothesis
The Procedure Followed
Chapter Two: The Narrative and Thematic Structure of Book One 70 -232
Preface
Proem
Discourse One: The Story of the King and the Servant
Link Section: The Story of the Greengrocer and the Parrot

Discourse Two: The Story of the King who liked to Kill Christians and his Vizier

Discourse Three: The Story of the another Jewish King

Discourse Four: The Story of the Lion and the Beasts

Discourse Five: The Story of the Ambassador of Rum and the Caliph 'Umar

Discourse Six: The Story of the Merchant and the Parrot Central

Link Section: "Whatever Allāh Wills cometh to pass"

Discourse Seven: The Story of the Old Harper in the Times of 'Umar

Link Section: The Prayer of the Two Angels

Discourse Eight: The Story of the Caliph, the Arab and his wife

Discourse Nine: The Story of the Lion, the Wolf and the Fox

Discourse Ten: The Story of Joseph and the Mirror

Discourse Eleven: Zayd's Vision

Discourse Twelve: The Story of 'Ali and the Infidel Knight

Chapter Three: Book One as an Entire and as a Part 233 - 254

The Analysis of Book One as an Entire

The Rationale of Book One as an Entire

The Linear and Non-Linear Ordering of Book One

Book One as a Part

Conclusion 255 - 267

Illustrations 269 - 275

Bibliography 276 - 281

Index 282 - 296