

Contents / Inhoud

Mariët Westermann	Introduction. Rubens and the Capital of the North	7
Filip Vermeulen	Antwerp Beckons. The Reasons for Rubens' Return to the Netherlands in 1608	17
Frits Scholten	Rubens' werkplaats-academie of de ghemeynschap die onse Consten van Schildry ende Belthouwery t'samen hebben	35
Andrew D. Hottle	Commerce and Connections. Peter Paul Rubens and the Dedicated Print	55
Cynthia Lawrence	Confronting Heresy in Post-Tridentine Antwerp. Coercion and Reconciliation as Opposing Strategies in Rubens' Real Presence in the Holy Sacrament	87
Barbara Haeger	Rubens' Rockox Triptych. Sight, Meditation, and the Justification of Imagess	117
Anna C. Knaap	Seeing in Sequence. Peter Paul Rubens' Ceiling Cycle at the Jesuit Church in Antwerp	155
Ulrich Heinen	Rubens' Pictorial Diplomacy at War (1637/1638)	197
Lucy Jane Davis	A Gift from Nature. Rubens' Bacchus and Artistic Creativity	227
Eveliina Juntunen	Rubens, Van Mander und Goltzius. Juno und Argus und der kunsttheoretische Diskurs in den nördlichen Niederlanden	245
Elizabeth Honig	Paradise Regained. Rubens, Jan Brueghel, and the Sociability of Visual Thought	271
Karolien De Clippel	Rubens Meets Brouwer. Confrontations with Low-Life Genre Painting	303
Irene Schaudies	Trimming Rubens' Shadow. New Light on the Mediation of Caravaggio in the Southern Netherlands	335