

Contents

Notes on Contributors	vi
Introduction The Ethics and Aesthetics of Humour and Comedy Michael Pickering and Sharon Lockyer	1
1 Comic Racism and Violence Michael Billig	25
2 Race and Ethnicity in Popular Humour Dennis Howitt and Kwame Owusu-Bempah	45
3 Humour and the Conduct of Politics John Morreall	63
4 Parody and Decorum: Permission to Mock Jerry Palmer	79
5 Breaking the Mould: Conversations with Omid Djalili and Shazia Mirza Sharon Lockyer and Michael Pickering	98
6 Merry Hell: Humour Competence and Social Incompetence Ken Willis	126
7 Privacy, Embarrassment and Social Power: British Sitcom Frances Gray	146
8 Comedies of Sexual Morality and Female Singlehood Deborah Chambers	162
9 The Ambiguities of Comic Impersonation Michael Pickering and Sharon Lockyer	180
Bibliography	198
Index	208