

Table of Contents

- ix Preface
- 1 Michael Lapidge. How ‘English’ is Pre-Conquest Anglo-Latin?
- 14 Peter Dronke. Arbor eterna: A Ninth-Century Welsh Latin Sequence.
- 27 Maria Amalia D’Aronco. How ‘English’ is Anglo-Saxon Medicine? The Latin Sources for Anglo-Saxon Medical Texts.
- 42 David Luscombe. Roger Bacon and Language.
- 55 John Marenbon. Robert Holcot and the Pagan Philosophers.
- 68 David Rundle. Humanist Eloquence among the Barbarians in Fifteenth-Century England.
- 86 Richard Sharpe. The English Bibliographical Tradition from Kirkestede to Tanner.
- 129 Ceri Davies. Two Welsh Renaissance Latinists: Sir John Prise of Brecon and Dr John Davies of Mallwyd.
- 145 Philip Ford. Scottish Nationalism in the Poetry of George Buchanan.
- 156 Stella P. Revard. The Latin Ode from Elizabeth I to Mary II: Political Approaches to Encomia.
- 170 James Binns. The Decline of Latin in Eighteenth-Century England.
- 178 E. J. Kenney. ‘A little of it sticks’: The Englishman’s Horace.
- 194 Christopher Stray. Scholars, Gentlemen, and Schoolboys: The Authority of Latin in Nineteenth- and Twentieth-Century England.

TABLE OF CONTENTS

- 209 Jean-Noël Guinot. Importance culturelle et politique de la Britannia Latina dans l'antiquité tardive et le haut Moyen Âge.
- 223 Index Auctorum