

Contents

1. Introduction: Productive Intersections 1
Anne Donadey and H. Adlai Murdoch

Part I. Rethinking Theoretical Beginnings

2. Power, Purpose, the Presumptuousness of Postcoloniality, and Frantz Fanon's Peau noire, masques blancs 21
E. Anthony Hurley
3. Unfathomable Toussaint: The (Un)Making of a Hero 37
Elisabeth Mudimbe-Boyi
4. A Neglected Precursor: Roland Barthes and the Origins of Postcolonialism 55
Alec G. Hargreaves

Part II. Postcolonialism, Modernity, and French Identities

5. Nomadic Thought, Postcolonialism, and Maghrebian Writing 67
John D. Erickson
6. Narratives of Internal Exile: Cixous, Derrida, and the Vichy Years in Algeria 87
Ronnie Scharfman
7. Mémoires d'Immigrés: Bougnoul for What? 102
Kenneth W. Harrow
8. French Interwar Cinema as Vernacular Modernism: Pabst's Drame de Shanghai (1938) 126
Winifred Woodhull

Part III. Displacing Francophonie: Migration and Transcultural Identities

9. Quebec and France: La Francophonie in a Comparative Postcolonial Frame 151
Eloise A. Brière

10. Displaced Discourses: Post(-)coloniality, Francophone Space(s), and the Literature(s) of Immigration in France 175
Michel Laronde

11. The Francophone Postcolonial Field 193
Jacques Coursil and Delphine Perret

Part IV. Theorizing the Black Atlantic

12. Borders, Books, and Points de Repère 211
Renée Larrier

13. Francophone Studies/Postcolonial Studies: “Postcolonializing” through Relation 224
Anjali Prabhu and Ato Quayson

14. Intersections and Trajectories: Francophone Studies and Postcolonial Theory 235
Dominic Thomas

Afterword: Francophonie, Postcolonial Studies, and Transnational Feminisms 258
Françoise Lionnet

About the Contributors 270

Index 273