I. FUNDAMENTALS

1. Data Analysis and Statistics: Techniques and Approaches [1965g] (with M. B. Wilk) 1

2. Data Analysis and Statistics: Principles and Practice [1966U9] (with M. B. Wilk) 23

II. GENERAL METHODS

3. Exploratory Data Analysis [1977a] 31

4. Some Graphic and Semigraphic Displays [1972a] 37

5. Variations of Box Plots [1978a] (with R. McGill and W. A. Larsen) 63

6. Notch Plots for Counted Rates [1977U5] 79

7. Teletypewriter Plots for Data Analysis Can Be Fast: 6-line Plots, Including Probability Plots [1973b] (with D. F. Andrews) 93

8. Statistical Mapping: What Should Not be Plotted [1979g] 109

9. Data Analysis, Including Statistics [1968e] (with F. Mosteller) 123

III. METHODS FOR MULTIDIMENSIONAL DATA

10. A Projection Pursuit Algorithm for Exploratory Data Analysis [1974a] (with J. H. Friedman) 149

11. Some Graphics for Studying Four-Dimensional Data [1982c] (with P. A. Tukey) 171

12. Graphic Display of Data Sets in 3 or More Dimensions [1981e] (with P. A. Tukey) 189

13. Approaches to Analysis of Data That Concentrate Near Intermediate-Dimensional Manifolds [1980h] (with J. H. Friedman and P. A. Tukey) 289

IV. DYNAMIC GRAPHICS

14. PRIM-9: An Interactive Multidimensional Data Display and Analysis System [1974j] (with M. A. Fisherkeller and J. H. Friedman) 307

15. Control and Stash Philosophy for Two-Handed, Flexible, and Immediate Control of a Graphic Display [1982U8] 329

V. OVERVIEWS

16. Thoughts on the Evolution of Dynamic Graphics for Data-Modification Display [1982U11] 383

17. Another Look at the Future [1982b] 403

18. Computer Graphics and Exploratory Data Analysis: An Introduction [1985k] (with P. A. Tukey) 419
