Contents

Preface ............................................................... xii
Acknowledgements ................................................ x
Notes On The Contributors ...................................... xi

Chapter One
Radical Mass Media Criticism: An Introduction ............ 1
David Berry

Chapter Two
The Intellectual Tradition Of Radical Mass Media Criticism: A Framework ... 17
John Theobald

Chapter Three
In Pursuit Of Socialised Press: Ferdinand Tönnies’s Critique
Of The Press And His Predecessors ............................ 41
Slavko Splichal

Chapter Four
Karl Kraus And Media Commodification Of Language ....... 59
John Theobald

Chapter Five
The Frankfurt School And Aesthetic Discourse: Critical Theory,
Art, And The Critique Of (Mass) Communication ................ 73
Hanno Hardt

Chapter Six
Mediating Politics: Jürgen Habermas And The Public Sphere ........ 90
Jim McGuigan and Stuart Allan

Chapter Seven
The Work Of The Glasgow Media Group: An Insider’s Story .......... 109
John Eldridge
Chapter Eight
Armand Mattelart: Historicism And Mass Media ............................ 125
Sanda Miller

Chapter Nine
Canadian Critical Communication ............................................. 140
Robert E. Babe and James P. Winter

Chapter Ten
McLuhan And His Influences .................................................. 161
Joost Van Loon

Chapter Eleven
A Century Of Radical Media Criticism In The USA ........................ 177
Ben Scott and Robert W. McChesney

Chapter Twelve
Popular Culture And Mass Media In Latin America: Some Reflections
On The Works Of Jésus Martín-Barbero And Nestor García Canclini 192
David Berry

Chapter Thirteen
The Transformative Power Of Cultural Criticism:
bell hooks's Radical Media Analysis ........................................ 212
Cynthia Carter

Chapter Fourteen
Dissident Intellectuals And Intellectual Dissidents:
Some Concluding Thoughts About Thinking And Acting ............... 234
John Theobald

Index ......................................................................................... 250