

Contents

Acknowledgments	v
Preface: Undecidables and Old Names, by John P. Leavey	1
Undecidables and Deconstruction	1
Derrida's Introduction to The Origin of Geometry	7
Deconstruction and the Science of Old Names	18
Translator's Note	20
Introduction to The Origin of Geometry	23
*I. The Sense of Sense-Investigation: Responsibility, Consciousness, and Existence	27
II. The Historical Reduction and the Necessity for Return Inquiry (Rückfrage) in Reactivation	34
III. The Ego as Fundament and the Reduction of Factuality	51
IV. Objectivity, Historicity, and Intentionality	62
V. Language, the Possibility of Transcendental Historicity	66
VI. The How of Ideality: the Earth and the Living Present	76
VII. The How of Ideality: Writing and Univocity as the Telos of Reactivation	87
VIII. Horizon: the Absolute of History, and Imaginary Variation	107
IX. The Suspension of Ideality: Scientific Study of the Life-World (Lebenswelt)	117
X. Geography, Infnitization, and the Idea in the Kantian Sense	122
XI. The Historicity of the Idea: Difference, Delay, Origins, and the Transcendental	141
Appendix: The Origin of Geometry, by Edmund Husserl	155
French and English Bibliography of Jacques Derrida, compiled by John P. Leavey and David Allison	181
Index of Passages Cited from Husserl	195
Index	199