

CONTENTS

Preface ix

SECTION I

1. An Autobiographical Memoir 3

SECTION II: RACE, SEX, AND FAMILY

2. Welfare: The Best of Intentions, the Worst of Results 43

3. The Tragedy of "Multiculturalism" 50

4. Reflections on Love and Family 54

5. Men, Women, and Sex 58

6. AIDS and False Innocence 63

7. Life Without Father 67

SECTION III: FROM ADVERSARY CULTURE TO COUNTERCULTURE

8. American Intellectuals and Foreign Policy 75

9. Capitalism, Socialism, and Nihilism 92

10. The Adversary Culture of Intellectuals 106

11. The Cultural Revolution and the Capitalist Future 123

12. Countercultures 136

SECTION IV: ON CAPITALISM AND THE DEMOCRATIC IDEA

13. Machiavelli and the Profanation of Politics 151

14. About Equality 165

15. The Frustrations of Affluence 179

- 16. Utopianism, Ancient and Modern 184
- 17. Social Reform: Gains and Losses 200
- 18. Business and the "New Class" 205
- 19. Corporate Capitalism in America 211
- 20. On Conservatism and Capitalism 230
- 21. The American Revolution as a Successful Revolution 235
 - 22. What Is "Social Justice?" 253
- 23. Adam Smith and the Spirit of Capitalism 258
- 24. Socialism: An Obituary for an Idea 300

SECTION V: THE CONSERVATIVE PROSPECT

- 25. American Historians and the Democratic Idea 313
 - 26. Urban Civilization and Its Discontents 328
 - 27. The Republican Future 344
 - 28. "The Stupid Party" 349
- 29. The Emergence of Two Republican Parties 354
 - 30. The New Populism: Not to Worry 359
 - 31. The Coming "Conservative Century" 364
 - 32. The New Face of American Politics 369
 - 33. America's "Exceptional Conservatism" 373

SECTION VI: ON JEWS

- 34. God and the Psychoanalysts 389
- 35. Einstein: The Passion of Pure Reason 405
 - 36. Is Jewish Humor Dead? 420
- 37. Christianity, Judaism, and Socialism 429
- 38. The Future of American Jewry 442

SECTION VII: SOME BACKWARD GLANCES

- 39. Memoirs of a "Cold Warrior" 457
 - 40. Memoirs of a Trotskyist 469
 - 41. My Cold War 481