INTRODUCTION
J.A. Nelder, Rothamsted Experimental Station, U.K.

PRISM, AN OVERVIEW
R.J. Baker, Rothamsted Experimental Station, U.K.

GLIM4 - THE NEW FACILITIES
M.R.B. Clarke, Queen Mary College, University of London, U.K.

ARRAY MANIPULATION IN PRISM
M. Green, Polytechnic of North London, U.K.

THE GRAPH MODULE
M. Slater, Queen Mary College, University of London, U.K.

AOV: THE PRISM MODULE FOR ANALYSING DESIGNED EXPERIMENTS
R.W. Payne, Rothamsted Experimental Station, U.K.

THE APL ALTERNATIVE
P.J. Green, University of Durham, U.K.

DIRECT LIKELIHOOD INFERENCES
M. Aitkin, University of Lancaster, U.K.

SCORE TESTS IN GLIM
D. Pregibon, Bell Laboratories, U.S.A.

GLIM SYNTAX and SIMULTANEOUS TESTS FOR GRAPHICAL LOG LINEAR MODELS
J. Whittaker, University of Lancaster, U.K.

COMPOUND POISSON REGRESSION MODELS
J. Hinde, University of Lancaster, U.K.

SOME ASPECTS OF PARAMETRIC LINK FUNCTIONS
A.J. Scallan, Polytechnic of North London, U.K.

A MODEL FOR A BINARY RESPONSE WITH MISCLASSIFICATIONS
A. Ekholm and J. Palmgren, University of Helsinki, Finland

LOGLINEAR MODELS WITH COMPOSITE LINK FUNCTIONS IN GENETICS
R. Burn, Brighton Polytechnic, U.K.

USE OF THE COMPLEMENTARY LOG-LOG FUNCTION TO DESCRIBE DOSE-RESPONSE
RELATIONSHIPS IN INSECTICIDE EVALUATION FIELD TRIALS
K. Phelps, National Vegetable Research Station, U.K.

GLIM FOR PREFERENCE
C.D. Sinclair, St. Andrews University, U.K.
A GLM FOR ESTIMATING PROBABILITIES IN RETROSPECTIVE CASE-CONTROL STUDIES

M. Slater, Queen Mary College, U.K. and R.D. Wiggins, Polytechnic of Central London, U.K.
