

CONTENTS

	Page
FOREWORD	ix
ONE: A CRITICAL SURVEY OF RESEARCH ON THE QUESTION OF SIN AND GUILT	1
Two Early Comparative Studies	1
SCHNEIDER 1 ZUNTZ 3
Superbia: The Theological Approach	7
SCHIEB 7 NOBEL 9 WAPNEWSKI 11
WILLSON 13 W. OHLY 19 SEIGFRIED 22
Incest	23
KING 23 RICHTER 24 BOON 25 DITTMANN
and CORMEAU 25 DICKERSON 29 CARNE 30
F. OHLY 33
Guilty: The Non-Theological Approach	34
GOEBEL 35 TOBIN 39
1978: A Crisis Year	45
MERTENS 45 MURDOCH 47 BAYER 48
ERNST 50
Conclusion	57
Gregorius research at a dead end? 58
MULLER-UKENA 59 KOLB 60 the most valuable ideas and trends so far 61
TWO: THE PSYCHOLOGICAL BASIS	65
physical laws 65 spiritual laws, God, psychology 66 Gregory the Great and Pomerius 67 Gregorius and Parzival: inner meaning 68 wärheit 69 Gregorius : brief analysis 70
Psychology	71
Gregorius is a psychological account of a man's development 71 psychology in the twelfth century 72 St. Anselm and his 'seven steps' 73 spiritual psychology 74

Medieval Treatises on Anthropology 75

introduction, editions, etc. 75 no original thought, but mainstream of intellectual activity in the twelfth century 77 self-knowledge 77 through the self to God 78
God within 79 image of God in the soul 79 highest point of the soul 80 grace 81
illumination 82

Secular Literature 82

expression of feelings 82 Chrétien 83
Hanning 83

THREE: THE WISDOM OF A CHILD 87

Gregorius at the monastery school 87✓

Wisdom in the Bible 88

From God; humility, fear 89 James: conduct;
constancy, meekness, etc. 90 patience 91
James: peace-loving, merciful, moderate, open to reason, etc. 91 shame 92

The Paradox 92

on the way to wisdom 93 purity 94
double mind 95

The Medieval Treatises 96

four elemental virtues 96 clean heart 96 simplicity, purity, wholeness, love 97
unity of mind 98

Gregorius ✓ 98

his dreamings 98 superficial description 99

FOUR: COMPLICATIONS AND PITFALLS ON THE ROAD TO WISDOM 101

Terminological Problems 101

highest point of the soul 102 the heart 102
Isaac of Stella, De discretione, William's Epistola 104

Dangers and Pitfalls 106

William 106 unity of spirit 107
irresolution 107 division, contradictions, fluctuation 108

Gregorius	109
inner division 109, William's example of irresolution 110 Gregorius' imaginings 111
Zwivel	112
survey of the Heliand , etc. 114 final comments 120
The Epistle of St. James	121
haesitare, duplex animo 122 Physiologus 123 Thomasin, Konrad Fleck 124 purification 125
The Double Mind	126
Cassiodorus and Bede on hesitation 126 Glossa Ordinaria and Martin of Leon on hesitation 127 Bede on double mind and Ecclus 128 terminology 130
Some Concluding Thoughts	131
 FIVE: THE DISPUTATION	 139
Foolish Anger	140
cf. James and Ecclus 141 cf. Parzival 142 anger in James and Eccles 143 anger and impatience in Proverbs and Ecclus 144 unêre , spot , schande and itewiz 146 Gregorius is not suadibilis 147 Gregorius' irrikeit 147
Ambition and Pride ✓	147
ambition 147 jealousy 150 superbia/pride 151
Bitter Honey	156
significance of the image for medieval psychology 157
Fortuna	159
saelde 159 Sermon on the Mount 160 cowardice 162
Gottes ritter ✓	163
âne alle mîne schulde 165 irrikeit 166

The World	167
sich von gote wenden/gote wilde	167
the 'world' in James and Guerric	169
superbia	170
Pomerius	171
Concluding Notes	172
search for identity	172
logical argument	173
the disputation on a deeper level	174
the split between spirit and mind	175
SIX: IN THE WORLD	177
The Joust	177
desire for honours	177
two levels	178
êre/saelde now and earlier	179
astuteness	180
cowardice	180
insincerity	182
Married Life	183
idealisation	183
mâze, gottes ritter	184
references to the future and Hartmann's 'framing'
technique	186
constant travelling	188
The Tablet	188
faith in James	188
the mirror	191
the tablet	194
secrecy and emotional
instability	195
trûren	196
he seduces his heart; his double existence	197 changes in
mood; the urge to wholeness	198
the urge
suppressed	199
Gregorius fighting against
himself	200
Conscience	201
inner conflicts in the Bible	202
synderesis	203
Philip the Chancellor	204
Gregorius	206
Moderation	207
Aristotle	208
Church Fathers	209
man is capable of applying moderation	210
speech
and reticence	211
Gregorius	212
culpable
ignorance	213
his 'story'	215
Shame	216
acceptio personae	217
speech and silence	218
Gregorius' shame earlier and now	218

Concluding Notes	220
Gregorius' parting advice: right intentions	221
mother's words on saelde	222
cowardice	223
SEVEN: PRAYER	225
Prayer in the Bible	226
James	226
John and William of St. Thierry	228
Prayer in the Wälscher Gast and Gregorius: a Comparison	229
analysis of Gregorius' first prayer	232
the paradox: God's answer	233
daily prayers	235
Wrathful Indignation	236
Gregorius pleads innocence	237
James' comment on this state of mind	238
Old Testament	239
The First Epistle of St. John	240
God's goodness in Gregorius	242
The Test	243
free will and education	244
God lets Gregorius punish himself	245
desperatio ?	247
'Double Mind' and Previous Interpretations of Gregorius	249
ambiguities and paradoxes in the poem	249
KALINKE	250
FISHER	251
GOEBEL	252
SCHIEB, WAPNEWSKI, ERNST	253
NOBEL,
WILLSON	254
TOBIN	255
EIGHT: THE CONVERSION	257
The Conflict	257
Ecclus; cf. Parzival	257
Gregorius' education	259
a flash of insight	261
fear in the Old Testament and Gregorius	262
hope	264
love	265
Purification	265
spiritual basis for thoughts	265
Gregorius negates previously held values	267
humility,
meekness	269
Gregorius gladly accepts scorn	270

patience, laughter, der guote, Anselm's steps 272
 confession 273 prayer 274 Psalm 51 275

The Irony of the Fisherman's Accusations 277

Gregorius accused of hypocrisy and lying 280
 double irony 281

Fear, Love and the Law 282

fear becomes love 283 Gregorius' fear must be transformed 284

The Rock of Transfiguration 285

trust in God 286 fisherman's irony 287 misery/blessing 288 the rock is a symbol 289 meditation 291 symbolism of the tablet 292 mystical experience? 293 the arrival of the Romans 294 clothes 295 Richard of St. Victor 296 single-minded (2) to an extreme 297 single-minded (3) 298 carried to an extreme 300 extreme humility 301
 he is lacking in äre 302 insecurity 303 fear mingled with hope 304 Gregorius sets up barriers 305 effects of God's love 307 open to reason 309 set your mind on God's kingdom 310

The Pope 311

the fourth degree of love; the healer 312 moderation 314 mercy 315 Gregorius sells body and soul to God 317 the reunion 317
saelde 318 gradualism in love 319 true happiness 320 instrument of God; constancy, moderation, serenity 321 balance of the mind 322 love and compassion 323

Concluding Notes 324

gradualism 325 Guerric of Igny 326 God must come first 327 Tristan and Parzival 329
 Hartmann's narrative works 330

NINE: GREGORIUS' FAMILY 331

The Grandfather 332

The First Sin 334

the father 334 the devil 335
 responsibility for sin 336

The Sister	338
pregnancy, desire for concealment 338
her childish purity 339	her decision 340
false shame 341	her reaction to the discovery of the first incest 342
Double Mind	343
wanken 343	servile fear 345      the prayer 346
The Penance	348
fear, not love 350
Reunion and Marriage	351
his clothes 352	her motivation for marrying 352	the narrator's assessment 354
false shame 356	her desire 357      misuse of
God's help 359	Willson's comments 360
Carne 361
The Discovery	362
the mother's fear of losing Gregorius 362
she realises her negligence 363	despair 365
test and corrective punishment 366	her hope:
selfish 367
The Mother's Second Penance	368
Gregorius' advice 369
Conclusion	370
TEN: PROLOGUE AND EPILOGUE	375
Praesumptio	375
Hartmann's confession 375	unverzaget mannes
muot 377
Ecclesiasticus, Chapter Five	379
inconstantia 379	double mind 381      various symptoms of inconstancy 382
Praesumptio and Desperatio in Gregorius	383
the relevance of praesumptio 383	the epilogue
and prologue 385	the wide meaning of zwivel 386
Herabanus links praesumptio and desperatio, hope and fear 387	praesumptio and desperatio are not two distinct entities 389	ignorance and knowledge 391      double mind linked to praesumptio and desperatio 392

The Parable 395

the bitter sweetness 396      the narrow path 397
 the 'murderers' and the 'clothes' 398 half dead 399      Hugh of St. Victor 401      hope and fear 403      purification 405

Zwivel after the Parable 406

Arnold von Lübeck 409

APPENDIX: SOME IMPORTANT NARRATIVE DEVICES 413

ambiguous words 414      ambiguous situations 415
 ambiguous statements; words out of context;
 love of contrasts 416      der guote sūndaere 417
 references to the future 417      framing 418
 truisms 418

BIBLIOGRAPHY 423

BIBLICAL INDEX 441

GREGORIUS INDEX 447

PARZIVAL INDEX 453

ILLUSTRATIONS 454