

CONTENTS

| | |
|--|-----------|
| Abbreviations | 7 |
| Bibliographical note | 7 |
| Preface | 9 |
| INTRODUCTION | 11 |
| CHAPTER 1 Christian Weise's novels and their background | |
| 1 Christian Weise's novels set in the context of the literary baroque | 17 |
| 2 Weise's novels: the reshaping of a satirical tradition | 30 |
| (i) Sebastian Brant | 34 |
| (ii) Thomas Murner | 38 |
| (iii) Jörg Wickram | 41 |
| (iv) Heinrich Cornelius Agrippa, Thomasso Garzoni | 44 |
| (v) Hans Michael Moscherosch | 47 |
| (vi) Hans Jacob Christoffel von Grimmelshausen | 51 |
| (vii) Johann Beer | 56 |
| CHAPTER 2 Die drei Hauptverderber | |
| 1 Relationship of Die drei Hauptverderber to Moscherosch's Gesichte Philanders von Sittewald - Weise's dissimilar use of the dream-framework | 62 |
| 2 Objects of Weise's satirical attacks - the speeches of the three Hauptverderber | 72 |
| 3 Sigmund's experiences as a prisoner | 82 |
| 4 Conclusion | 85 |

CHAPTER 3 Die drei Erznarren

| | |
|---|-----|
| 1 Weise's didactic intention | 87 |
| 2 Situation comedy - the construction of the novel | 91 |
| 3 Personal folly | 94 |
| (i) False claims | 95 |
| (ii) Immoderation | 102 |
| 4 Social evils | 108 |
| (i) The Mountebank | 109 |
| (ii) Doctors | 111 |
| (iii) Dichotomy between pretence and truth | 112 |
| (iv) Educational satire | 114 |
| 5 Weise's attacks on Zesen | 117 |
| 6 Figures whom we laugh with as well as at | 124 |
| (i) Eurylas, the practical joker | 125 |
| (ii) Florindo, the pivot figure | 126 |
| (iii) The Artist, duper and duped | 127 |
| (iv) The over-enthusiastic comedian | 128 |
| 7 Linguistic humour: the intrusion of the narrator | 130 |
| 8 The ending of the novel: moral or irony? | 135 |

CHAPTER 4 Die drei klügsten Leute

| | |
|--|-----|
| 1 Relationship between Die drei klügsten Leute and Die drei Erznarren | 140 |
| 2 Folly as the result of imperfection: the resultant pessimistic view of the world | 143 |
| 3 The ironic patterning of events in Die drei klügsten Leute | 146 |

| | |
|--|------------|
| (i) Irony and coincidence: the opening chapters of the novel | 148 |
| (ii) Parallel and contrast in the two journeys | 156 |
| (iii) Chance and disguise | 160 |
| 4 Figures of satire | 163 |
| (i) Simplicius | 163 |
| (ii) Deutriias and Longurio | 167 |
| (iii) The duped student | 169 |
| 5 Ironic contrast of happy and unhappy marriages | 171 |
| 6 Linguistic humour | 174 |
| 7 Conclusion | 178 |

CHAPTER 5 Der politische Näscher

| | |
|---|------------|
| 1 Didacticism and the role of Crescentio | 183 |
| 2 Narrative technique | 187 |
| 3 Anecdote clusters | 191 |
| (i) Introduction | 191 |
| (ii) Narrative anecdotes | 193 |
| (a) Bastian Schoß | 193 |
| (b) Strephon | 197 |
| (iii) Recounted anecdotes | 202 |
| (a) Introduction | 202 |
| (b) The three fools | 202 |
| (c) The second major anecdote cluster | 206 |
| 4 Stylistic humour | 207 |
| 5 Somatic imagery | 210 |

CONCLUSION

BIBLIOGRAPHY

216

221