

CONTENTS

Preface	iii
"Genelun erbleichte harte": The Dark Figure and the Responsibility for Carnage in Das Rolandslied Susan L. Clark	1
The Function of Knowledge and Magic in Salman und Morolf Maria Dobozy	27
Kriemhild and Gerlind: Some Observations on the vǫlandinns-Concept in the Nibelungenlied and Kudrun Winder McConnell	42
On the Edge: The Figure of Isolde in Gottfried's Tristan Nancy C. Zak	54
Dark Figures of Minnesang: The merkzre and the huote Stephanie Cain Van D'Elden	66
Changing Patterns of Cohesion: The Dark Figure in Later Middle High German Narrative Franz H. Bäuml	89
Dark Figures and Eschatological Imagery in Wirnt von Gravenberg's Wigalois Ingeborg Henderson	99
The Devil as Judge: The Stricker's Short Narrative "Der Richter und der Teufel" Robert E. Lewis	114
The Hero and the Magician: On the Proliferation of Dark Figures from Li Contes del Graal and Parzival to Diu Crône Ernst S. Dick	128
Egill Skalla-Grímsson: The Dark Figure as Survivor in an Icelandic Saga Jesse Byock	151