

CONTENTS

Acknowledgements	vii
Introduction David Jackson	1
1. Text and Sub-Text: Reflections on the Literary Exploration of Taboo Experience Martin Swales	17
2. 'Verlorene Töchter': Reticence and Ambiguity in German Domestic Drama in the Late Eighteenth Century Edward McInnes	27
3. Saying and Not-Saying in Hölderlin's Work David Constantine	43
4. Taboos in Poetic-Realist Writers David Jackson	59
5. Of Madness and Masochism: Sexuality in Women's Writing at the Turn of the Century Chris Weedon	79
6. The Double Taboo: Male Bodies in Kafka's Der Proceß Elizabeth Boa	97
7. The Frustrated Poet: Homosexuality and Taboo in Der Tod in Venedig T.J. Reed	119

8. Discovering a Taboo: The Nazi Past in Literary-Political Discourse 1958–67 Helmut Peitsch	135
9. Inarticulacy: Lesbianism and Language in Post-1945 German Literature Georgina Paul	165
10. Sex and Politics: The Case of the GDR J.H. Reid	183
Notes on Contributors	203
Bibliography	205