

---

Contents

LIST OF MAPS AND FIGURES	page xi
INTRODUCTION	xv
PART I The Historical and Institutional Background	1
1 Muhammad and the Birth of Islam	3
2 The Basic Institutions of Islam	11
PART II General Themes	25
3 The Islamization of Africa	27
4 The Africanization of Islam	42
5 Muslim Identity and the Slave Trades	60
6 Western Views of Africa and Islam	74
PART III Case Studies	89
7 Morocco: Muslims in a "Muslim Nation"	91
8 Ethiopia: Muslims in a "Christian Nation"	108
9 Asante and Kumasi: A Muslim Minority in a "Sea of Paganism"	124
10 Sokoto and Hausaland: Jihad within the Dar al-Islam	139
11 Buganda: Religious Competition for the Kingdom	153

12 The Sudan: The Mahdi and Khalifa amid Competing Imperialisms	169
13 Senegal: Bamba and the Murids under French Colonial Rule	182
CONCLUSION	197
GLOSSARY	211
INDEX	215

---

Maps and Figures

Maps

- |   |                |
|---|----------------|
| 1. A typical portrayal of the spread of Islam in Africa.          | page 29 |
| 2. Trade routes of Northern Africa.                               | 30             |
| 3. The Omani trading networks in East Africa.                     | 37             |
| 4. The Arabs' conception of Africa in the thirteenth century C.E. | 75             |
| 5. Muslim states and struggles in the Nile Sudan and Ethiopia.    | 119            |
| 6. Muslim states and struggles in West Africa.                    | 136            |
| 7. The implantation of the Murids in Senegal.                     | 191            |

Figures

- |   |    |
|---|----|
| 1. Calligraphy. Illuminated page from a biography of Muhammad, from Centre Ahmed Baba, Timbuktu, Mali. Author's photo, 1979.  | 13 |
| 2. The secret to ocean trade. The East African dhow that permitted travel around the Indian Ocean. Peter S. Garlake, The Kingdoms of Africa . Elsevier-Phaidon, Oxford, 1978, p. 93. | 31 |
| 3. Kilwa, the most prominent of the Swahili cities in the early period. An artist's reconstruction of the palace, Kilwa Island, Tanzania. Garlake, p. 101.                                  | 35 |

4. Mosque in the traditional mud-brick style of the West African savanna. The Sankore mosque and university in Timbuktu, Mali. Author's photo, 1979. 46
5. Another mosque in the traditional style. Friday mosque at Mopti, Mali. Author's photo, 1976. 47
6. Mosque in the Moroccan style. A minaret of the Grand Mosque of Dakar, Senegal, built by Moroccan designers and mosaic workers in the early 1960s. Author's photo, 1968. 48
7. A modern artist's rendition of the mud-brick mosque style. A painting by Boubacar Coulibaly, Senegalese painter, about 1975. Author's photo. 49
8. Basic Islamic instruction. Quranic teacher and pupil, Guinea, about 1890. From Felix Dubois, La vie au continent noir. Paris: J. Hetzel, 1893, p. 170. 50
9. Piety and prayer. Senegalese Muslim praying on a boat; from a sketch of a colonial soldier made by a French artist. From Dubois, p. 13. 51
10. Piety and protection. Photo of an Asante chief, Ejisuhene Nana Diko Pim III, in his great warshirt with talismans, 1976. Collection of Doran Ross. 52
11. Divination and protection. Arabic text showing magic squares to be used in talismans and for other purposes. Claudia Zaslavsky, Africa Counts. Boston: Prindle, Weber and Schmidt, 1973, p. 144. 53
12. European intrusion. Napoleon in Egypt, investing an Arab shaikh, ca. 1800. Normal Daniel, Islam, Europe and Empire, Edinburgh University Press, 1966. 83
13. Defense against European intrusion. A coastal fortress at Agadir, Morocco. Photo by author, 1967. 97
14. Muslim royalty on tour. A sketch of Mulay Hassan, Alawite Sultan of Morocco, in the late nineteenth century. From the Bibliotheque Nationale, Paris, late nineteenth century collections, published in Hatier's Histoire du Maroc, Casablanca, 1967, p. 314. Sheed and Ward, an imprint of the Rowman and Littlefield Publishing Group. 103
15. A painting of the diverse Muslim populations of Ethiopia in the "traditional" style by Adamu Tesfar, 2001. Collection of Al and Polly Roberts. 117

16. The “Suwarian” minority in the Asante capital. A sketch of Muslims in Kumasi. From Joseph Dupuis’ Journal of a Residence in Ashanti, London: Henry Colburn, 1824. 129
17. An opponent of the Sokoto jihād. A sketch of Shaikh al-Kanemi, a formidable Muslim cleric of Bornu. From E. W. Bovill (editor) Missions to the Niger, Cambridge University Press, 1960. 147
18. The focus of intense competition. A sketch of the Buganda palace in the late nineteenth century. From J. P. Thoonen, Black Martyrs, New York: Sheed and Ward, 1941. 155
19. The headquarters of Omani and Swahili expansion in nineteenth-century East Africa. An engraving of Zanzibar. From Henry M. Stanley, Through the Dark Continent, New York: Harper and Brothers, 1878, volume 1. 157
20. The king courted by Muslims, Christians, and traditional authorities. A photo of Kabaka Mutesa and his chiefs. From Stanley. 159
21. Arousing opposition to the “Turks” in the Sudan. A sketch of a Muslim preacher of jihād in the Sudan in the early 1880s. From Normal Daniel, Islam, Europe and Empire, Edinburgh University Press, 1966. 170
22. Conflict between Christian and Muslim at Metemma (al-Qallabat) in 1889. A painting by an unknown Ethiopian artist, ca. 1930. Collection of Suzanne Miers. 178
23. A Sufi saint in Senegal. The 1913 photograph of Amadu Bamba Mbacke, founder of the Murid brotherhood. From Paul Marty, Etudes sur l’Islam au Sénégal (two volumes, Paris, 1917; volume 1, facing p. 222). This copy came from the Fowler Museum of Cultural History at UCLA. 183
24. Bamba’s miraculous prayer on the ocean waves. Photograph of a glass painting of Amadu Bamba praying on the water as he is taken into exile by the French, by Daouda M’Ballo, ca. 1998, Dakar, Senegal. From the collection of Al and Polly Roberts. Fowler Museum of Cultural History at UCLA, X97.14.33. 188