

CONTENTS

Acknowledgments • ix

I. INTRODUCTION • 1

The Culture That Sticks to Your Skin:
A Manifesto for a New Cultural Studies
*Henry Jenkins, Tara McPherson, and
Jane Shattuc* • 3

Defining Popular Culture
*Henry Jenkins, Tara McPherson, and
Jane Shattuc* • 26

II. SELF • 43

Daytime Utopias: If You Lived in Pine Valley,
You'd Be Home
Elayne Rapping • 47

Cardboard Patriarchy: Adult Baseball Card
Collecting and the Nostalgia for a Presexual
Past
John Bloom • 66

Virgins for Jesus: The Gender Politics of Therapeutic Christian Fundamentalist
Media
Heather Hendershot • 88

"Do We Look Like Ferengi Capitalists to You?"
Star Trek's Klingons as Emergent Virtual
American Ethnics
Peter A. Chvany • 105

The Empress's New Clothing? Public
Intellectualism and Popular Culture
Jane Shattuc • 122

"My Beautiful Wickedness": The Wizard of Oz
as Lesbian Fantasy
Alexander Doty • 138

III. MAKER • 159

“Ceci N’est Pas une Jeune Fille”: Videocams, Representation, and “Othering” in the Worlds of Teenage Girls

Gerry Bloustien • 162

“No Matter How Small”: The Democratic Imagination of Dr. Seuss

Henry Jenkins • 187

An Auteur in the Age of the Internet: JMS, Babylon 5, and the Net

Alan Wexelblat • 209

“I’m a Loser Baby”: Zines and the Creation of Underground Identity

Stephen Duncombe • 227

IV. PERFORMANCE • 251

“Anyone Can Do It”: Forging a Participatory Culture in Karaoke Bars

Robert Drew • 254

Watching Wrestling / Writing Performance

Sharon Mazer • 270

Mae West’s Maids: Race, “Authenticity,” and the Discourse of Camp

Pamela Robertson Wojcik • 287

“They Dig Her Message”: Opera, Television, and the Black Diva

Dianne Brooks • 300

How to Become a Camp Icon in Five Easy Lessons: Fetishism—and Tallulah Bankhead’s Phallus

Edward O’Neill • 316

V. TASTE • 339

“It Will Get a Terrific Laugh”: On the Problematic Pleasures and Politics of Holocaust Humor

Louis Kaplan • 343

The Sound of Disaffection

Tony Grajeda • 357

Corruption, Criminality, and the Nickelodeon

Roberta E. Pearson and William Uricchio • 376

“Racial Cross-Dressing” in the Jazz Age: Cultural Therapy and Its Discontents in Cabaret Nightlife

Nicholas M. Evans • 388

The Invisible Burlesque Body of La Guardia’s
New York

Anna McCarthy • 415

Quarantined! A Case Study of Boston’s Combat
Zone

Eric Schaefer and Eithne Johnson • 430

VI. CHANGE • 455

On Thrifting

*Matthew Tinkcom, Joy Van Fuqua, and Amy
Villarejo* • 459

Shopping Sense: Fanny Fern and Jennie June on Consumer Culture in the Nineteenth Century

Elana Crane • 472

Navigating Myst-y Landscapes: Killer
Applications and Hybrid Criticism

Greg M. Smith • 487

The Rules of the Game: Evil Dead II . . . Meet
Thy Doom

Angela Ndaliansis • 503

Seeing in Black and White: Gender and Racial Visibility from Gone with the Wind to Scarlett

Tara McPherson • 517

VII. HOME • 535

“The Last Truly British People You Will Ever
Know”: Skinheads, Pakis, and Morrissey

Nabeel Zuberi • 539

Finding One's Way Home: I Dream of Jeannie
and Diasporic Identity

Maria Koundoura • 556

As Canadian as Possible . . . : Anglo-Canadian Popular Culture and the American Other

Aniko Bodroghkozy • 566

Wheels of Fortune: Nation, Culture, and the Tour de France

Catherine Palmer • 589

Narrativizing Cyber-Travel: CD-ROM Travel
Games and the Art of Historical Recovery

Ellen Strain • 605

Hotting, Twocking, and Indigenous Shipping:
A Vehicular Theory of Knowledge in Cultural Studies

John Hartley • 622

VIII. EMOTION • 647

"Ain't I de One Everybody Come to See?!"
Popular Memories of Uncle Tom's Cabin

Robyn R. Warhol • 650

Stress Management Ideology and the Other
Spaces of Women's Power

Kathleen Green • 670

"Have You Seen This Child?" From Milk Carton
to Mise-en-Abime

Eric Freedman • 689

Introducing Horror

Charles E. Weigl • 700

About the Contributors • 721

Name Index • 733