

CONTENTS

Preface	ix
Chapter One Representing the People as a Nation	1
Contemporary Nationalism Theory: What is Nationalism and Who are the Nation	5
Theoretical Influences on Japanese Discourse on the Nation	11
Contemporary Japanese Theories on Nationalism	25
Chapter Two The Preconditions of Japanese Nationalism	36
The Bakamatsu Years and the Preconditions of National Identity	37
Creating a Public and Building a State in Early Meiji	45
Mitsukuri Rinshō and the Legal Theory of “Minken”	65
Miyazaki Muryū and the Concept of “Minzoku”	71
Mitsukuri, Miyazaki and Japanese Nationalist Discourse	80
Chapter Three Tennō	83
The Monarch as Liberator of the Japanese People	84
Monarchy and the Moral Nation	92
The Monarch as Emperor (Kōtei)	102
The Tennō as Symbol of the Nation ..	113
Chapter Four Shakai	127
Coming to Terms with Society in Meiji Japan	129
Constructing Society, Conceiving of Shakai	135
Society as a Problem	143
Taisho Sociology and the Problem of the “People”	149
Postwar Japan and Shakai	154
Chapter Five Kokumin	164
Civilization and Nationalism, 1868-1890	169
Meiji Kokumin Aesthetics	177
Meiji Kokumin Theology	184

Meiji Kokumin Political Theory	191
From Political to Cultural Nationalism, 1890-1945	194
The Postwar Return of the Kokumin, 1945-Present	203
Chapter Six Minzoku	216
Minzoku and Empire	219
Minzoku and Liberal Political Theory ..	226
Minzoku and War	236
Minzoku and the Postwar Nation	250
Chapter Seven Afterword: The Place of the Nation in Japan Today	265
Bibliography	275
Index	285