

CONTENTS

Foreword	11
Professor Dr André Habisch, Catholic University of Eichstätt and Managing Director, Center for Corporate Citizenship
Introduction	13
Jörg Andriof, Corporate Citizenship Unit, Warwick Business School, UK
PART 1: Evolution, Context and Concepts of Corporate Citizenship	25
1. Integrity and mindfulness: foundations of corporate citizenship	26
Sandra Waddock, Boston College, Carroll School of Management, USA
Operating with integrity	28
Firm adherence to a code	28
Soundness and wholeness	29
The integral perspective	31
Operating mindfully	32
Cognitive development	33
Moral development	34
Emotional intelligence	35
'Good conversation': dialogue as stakeholder practice	36
2. Corporate citizenship: evolution and interpretation	39
Duane Windsor, Rice University, USA
A brief developmental history of corporate citizenship	42
Evaluating the conventional approach to corporate citizenship	45
A proposed theory of progressive corporate responsibilities	48
Summary and conclusions	51

3. Corporate citizenship: rethinking business beyond corporate social responsibility	53
David Birch, Corporate Citizenship Research Unit, Deakin University, Australia
Holistic corporate citizenship	53
The social 'must'	54
Business as a public culture	56
A conceptual framework of corporate citizenship	59
Making a difference	59
Employee and stakeholder empowerment	59
Transparency	59
Accountability	59
Sharing responsibility	60
Inclusivity	60
Sustainable capitalism	60
A triple bottom line	60
Long-termism	60
Communication	60
Engagement	60
Dialogue	61
A suggested charter of corporate citizenship for BP in Australia	61
The way forward	61
Conclusions	65
4. Global corporate citizenship in a dot.com world: the role of organisational identity	66
James E. Post and Shawn L. Berman, Boston University, USA
Corporate citizenship	67
Corporate identity	69
Identity and corporate citizenship	70
Identity in a dot.com world	72
The study	72
Net identity	73
Citizenship patterns	75
The 'glocal' corporation	76
Models	76
Toward dot.com citizenship	80
Impact on corporate citizenship	81
Conclusions	82
5. Theorising business citizenship	83
Donna J. Wood, University of Pittsburgh, USA, and Jeanne M. Logsdon, University of New Mexico, USA
Corporate social responsibility and corporate citizenship	84
Getting to business citizenship in two steps	86
The nature of citizenship	88
From individual citizenship to corporate citizenship	92
The minimalist orthodoxy	92
The communitarian revolution	94
From corporate citizenship to business citizenship	95
The communitarian orthodoxy and the universalist revolution	95
Business citizenship from three perspectives	97
Business citizenship in support of human rights	97
Conclusions	103

6. Business citizenship outside and inside organisations: an emergent synthesis of corporate responsibility and employee citizenship	104
Diane Swanson and Brian P. Niehoff, Kansas State University, USA
Conceptualising two views of citizenship	105
Corporate citizenship as social responsibility	105
Organisational citizenship as employee behaviour	108
Comparing citizenship inside and outside organisations	110
Obvious differences	110
Similarities or shared interests	111
An emergent synthesis	111
Implications for theory and practice	113
Charting a research agenda	113
Formulating guidelines for practical management	114
Maintaining realistic expectations for theory and practice	115
Conclusions	116
PART 2: Governance and Leadership of Corporate Citizens	117
7. Corporate citizenship as an ethic of care: corporate values, codes of ethics and global governance	118
Michel Dion, Université de Sherbrooke, Canada
Corporate ethics	119
The top ten corporate values	119
Integrity	119
Honesty	120
Justice	120
Equality	121
Objectivity (or impartiality)	121
Loyalty	121
Devotion	122
Respect	122
Prudence	123
Tolerance	123
Institutional ethics and corporate codes of ethics	124
Content analyses of corporate codes of ethics in Canada	124
Social ethics	130
The ethics of international business, global governance and a threefold concept of corporate citizenship	131
The Principles for Global Corporate Responsibility	132
The Interfaith Declaration	132
The Rules of Conduct to Combat Extortion and Bribery	133
The Tripartite Declaration of Principles Concerning Multinationals and Social Policies	133
The Convention on Combating Bribery of Foreign Public Officials in International Business Transactions	134
Summary	134
Corporate citizenship as an ethic of care	134
Working together: struggling for co-operation	136
Hoping together: searching for understanding	137
Living together: respecting basic human rights	137

8. The moral leader: essential for successful corporate citizenship 139*Archie B. Carroll, University of Georgia, USA*

Ethics and leadership	140
Management and leadership models	142
Immoral management and leadership	142
Amoral management and leadership	143
From moral management to moral leadership	143
The seven habits of highly moral leaders	145
A passion to 'do right'	145
Morally proactive	146
Stakeholder-inclusiveness	146
Strong ethical character	148
An obsession with fairness	149
Principled decision-making	149
The integration of ethics wisdom with management wisdom	150
Conclusions	150

9. How Australia's top 500 companies are becoming corporate citizens 152*Mark Glazebrook, Corporate Citizenship Research Unit,
Deakin University, Australia*

Public policy	152
Governance	156
The law	159
Incentives	161
Accolades	161
Imperatives	162
Opportunities	163
Conclusions	165

10. When multinational corporations act as governments:
the Mobil corporation experience 166Alejo José G. Sison, Institute for Enterprise and Humanism, University of Navarre, Spain*

Multinational corporations and corporate social responsibility	166
From nation-state to welfare state	169
Contemporary globalisation and its impacts	170
Mobil Corporation (1994–99) and corporate global citizenship	172
Disclosure of information	174
Taxation	174
Employment and industrial relations	175
Environmental protection	175
Financing the arts	176
Science and technology	176
Competition	177
Politics	177
Nigeria	178
Discussion	178
Cues for global governance from the Mobil experience	179
Appendix: Mobil advertorials	181

11. The world's business: the United Nations and the globalisation of corporate citizenship	185
Jonathan Cohen, United Nations Association of the USA
The United Nations and corporate citizenship	186
Phase 1: the awakening	188
Phase 2: engaging	189
Phase 3: networking in the future	192
United Nations and corporate citizenship challenges	193
Conclusions	196
PART 3: Stakeholder Engagement and Social Accountability	199
12. Partnership alchemy: engagement, innovation and governance	200
Simon Zadek, Institute of Social and Ethical AccountAbility, UK
New challenges to old problems	200
Partnership times	201
Describing partnerships	202
Analysing partnerships	204
Building enablers	204
Innovation	204
Knowledge	205
Accountability	205
Strategy	207
Effectiveness	208
Adding it up	211
Partnership-based governance	212
13. Patterns of stakeholder partnership building	215
Jörg Andriof, Corporate Citizenship Unit, Warwick Business School, UK
Towards strategic partnering	215
Engaging with stakeholders	218
A framework for analysing stakeholder partnership building	221
Analysing stakeholder partnership building	223
Element 1: the purpose of partnerships	224
Element 2: partnership pacts	227
Element 3: power relationships in partnerships	230
Element 4: processes of partnership developments	233
Four patterns of stakeholder partnership building	236
Roadmap for further research	237
14. A comparative study of stakeholder engagement approaches in social auditing	239
Simon S. Gao, Napier University Business School, UK, and Jane J. Zhang, Glasgow Caledonian University, UK
Stakeholder engagement	241
Social auditing	244
A comparison of stakeholder engagement approaches in social auditing: case studies	247
Agency for Personal Service Overseas	248
British Telecom	248
The Co-operative Bank	249
Shared Earth	250
Vancouver City Savings Credit Union	250
Stakeholder engagement approaches in social auditing	251
Conclusions	255

15. Corporate citizenship: What gets recorded? What gets rewarded? ..	256
Kimberly S. Davenport, BellSouth Corporation, USA, and Patsy Lewellyn, University of South Carolina Aiken, USA
Background: research framework	257
Results	259
What gets recorded	259
What gets rewarded?	264
Reported compared with awarded behaviours: how do the principles fare?	267
Company comparisons	270
Conclusions and recommendations for future research	273
Appendix. Search terms: principles of corporate citizenship	275
16. Processes in social and ethical accountability:
external reporting mechanisms	278
Leigh Holland, De Montfort University, UK, and Jane Gibbon, Newcastle Business School, University of Northumbria, UK
Some initial considerations	279
Why report?	279
Where to report?	280
What type of report?	280
What to report?	281
Who requires guidance?	282
A model for positioning the organisation	282
Global Reporting Initiative (GRI): sustainability reporting guidelines	282
Towards a generally accepted framework for environmental reporting	286
Accountability Standard 1000: social and ethical accounting, auditing and reporting	287
Making Values Count: a quality scoring framework	291
Conclusions	294
Bibliography	296
List of abbreviations	315
Author biographies	318
Index	323