Contents

Preface vii
Acknowledgements ix
Map xiii

1. Lela: Past Present, Present Past
   - Lela in the Early Post-Colony 1
   - Bali Nyonga: A Thumbnail History 3

2. Lela in 1908: The Photographic Record 8
   - Lela and Voma in Bali 8
   - The Ethnologist and the Missionaries 9
   - Ankermann and the Missionaries Photographed: The Second Photographer 11
   - The Texts and the Photographs 13
   - An Inventory of the Photographic Record of the 1908 Lela 15
   - Conclusion 23

3. Lela: The Texts, 1890s to 1960s 27
   - Missionaries' Version 1903 to 1913 27
   - The Ethnologist's Version 1907 to 1908 37
   - The Soldier's and Trader's Versions 1889 to 1906 41
   - Interlude: The Bali Axis Unravels 46
   - The Anthropologist and the Historian: A 1960s Version 49

4. Lela: Incorporation, Ascendancy and the Means of Violence 56
   - The Ba'ni before the Germans 56
   - The Apogee of Germano-Bali Majesty: The 1905 Paramountcy 62

Illustrations 71

5. Lela in the Grassfields and the 'Graffi' in Lela: Or, More is More 99
   - The Importance of Origins 99
   - More is More 101
   - Lela Adopted in the Grassfields 106
   - Lela and Voma in the Bali Kingdoms 109
6. Lela Precedents: Beyond and Before the Grassfields
   'Spear Washing' in the Benue Chamba Chiefdoms:
   Flags, Gowns and Horses
   Adamawan Elements in Lela: Death, Killing and Commemoration
   116
   116
   123

7. Fast Forward: From Adamawa to Late Post-Colonial Cameroon
   133

References
   Published References
   Unpublished References
   147
   147
   154

Index
   157