

Contents

Acknowledgements
Abbreviations
Introduction: Why Should Brecht's Name be Mentioned?	1
Part One: Dialectics and Drama	15
1. Dialectics in the Theatre	17
2. Dialectical Drama and a Changing World	33
3. A 'By No Means Undialectical' Epic Theatre: Brecht's Gestus	42
4. 'Only "Actually" is it Familiar': Brecht's Verfremdungseffekt	62
Part Two: In and Above the Stream	91
5. 'Bad Time for Poetry'	93
6. Alienating Verse	104
7. 'The Art . . . of not Submitting'	125
Part Three: Marxist Art and Critical Attitudes	149
8. 'A Conceivable Aesthetic'	151
9. A Choice of Critics	179
10. Lenin and/or Stalin: 'The Measures Mistaken'	191
Part Four: The Marxist Artist in Socialist Berlin	203
11. He Who Says Yes and No	205
12. 'The Travails of the Plains'	217
13. Communist Ways and Days of the Commune	238
Index	252