

Contents

Preface	ix
The Problem of Work and Identity	1
PART I. THE BOURGEOISIE AND THE CALLING IN WEBER AND MANN
Introduction to Part I	13
1. Weber and the Puritan Calling	18
The Discovery of the Calling in The Protestant Ethic	21
The Lesson of the Calling	49
2. Mann and the Calling of the Artist	52
The Intellectual Artist Without a Calling: “The Joker”	54
The Failure of the Calling: Buddenbrooks	61
The Artist with a Bourgeois Identity: Tonio Kröger	85
The Appropriation of the Bourgeois Calling	105
Conclusion to Part I: The Nature of the Calling	109

PART II. PERSONALITY AND THE NEW MEN
OF THE CALLING

Introduction to Part II	115
3. The Discourse of Personality	120
The Transcendence of the Natural Self: Kant	121
Bildung and Personality: Humboldt	125
Duty and Personality: Goethe	128
4. Weber, the Occidental Self, and the Creation of Personality	131
The Idea of Personality Among Weber's Contemporaries	132
The Concept of Personality in Weber's Sociology of Religion	142
The New Aristocracy	165
5. Mann and the Prisonhouse of Personality	169
The Artist-Personality: Representation and Suffering	175
↳ The Death in Life of the Artistic Personality: Death in Venice	187
The Crisis of Personality	207
Conclusion to Part II and Prospect: The Redemption of the Self	209
Notes	215
Bibliography	261
Index	277