

Table of Contents

List of Abbreviations Used	v
I Preliminary Remarks	1
A. Definition of Humor	1
B. The Problem of Humor in the Works of Alfred Döblin	5
II Döblin: Portrait and Self-Portrait	12
III Döblin's Language	21
A. Distortion and Disintegration of Words and their Meanings	21
Play with Words and Syllable Components
Repetitions and Variations
Listing
Imitative Sounds
Drawings
Puns and Pseudo Etymologies
B. Döblin's Use of Varieties of Style	44
Berlin Speech and Colloquial Speech
Children's Language
Encyclopedic Description
Scientific and Bureaucratic Language
Biblical Language
C. Aphorisms and Figurative Language	69
D. Literary Quotations and Motifs	77
Summary	95
IV Satire and Irony to Reveal the Weaknesses and Faults of the Existing World Order	97
A. Author Intrusion	97
B. Absurd Logic	108
C. Satire of Human Nature	124
Satire of Interpersonal Relationships
Satire of False Values
Human Frailty and Human Immutability
D. Social Criticism: Döblin's Political Wit	139
Summary	154
V The Picaresque Elements	157

VI	The Grotesque Elements in Berlin Alexanderplatz	178
	A. The "Dunkel"-motif	179
	B. Colors	188
	C. Grotesque Distortion	196
	D. Franz Biberkopf's Vision of Order Which Renders Man Grotesque	219
	Summary	227
VII	Why Döblin Intentionally Exploits Humor and the Grotesque in Berlin Alexanderplatz	230
	A. Döblin's Artistic Premises	230
	Döblin's Allergy to Aestheticism
	The Role of Imagination ("Phantasie")
	B. The Basis for Döblin's Humor	240
	Döblin, the Sceptic
	Döblin, the Seeker
	Döblin, the Sufferer
	Döblin's World Order, the Mystery and Totality of Nature
	List of Works Consulted	256