

Contents

---

---

Preface      xiii

PART ONE • Introduction to Evaluation      1

1    Evaluation's Basic Purpose, Uses, and Conceptual Distinctions      3

---

- A Brief Definition of Evaluation*      4
- Informal versus Formal Evaluation*      8
- Distinguishing between Evaluation's Purposes and Evaluators' Roles and Activities*      9
- Some Basic Types of Evaluation*      16
- Evaluation's Importance—and Its Limitations*      26

2    Origins and Current Trends in Modern Program Evaluation      30

---

- The History and Influence of Evaluation in Society*      30
- Recent Trends Influencing Program Evaluation*      44

PART TWO • Alternative Approaches to Program Evaluation      53

3    Alternative Views of Evaluation      57

---

- Diverse Conceptions of Program Evaluation*      58
- Origins of Alternative Views of Evaluation*      59

4 Objectives-Oriented Evaluation Approaches 71

---

Developers of the Objectives-Oriented Evaluation Approach and Their Contributions 72

How the Objectives-Oriented Evaluation Approach Has Been Used 80

*Strengths and Limitations of the Objectives-Oriented
Evaluation Approach* 82

5 Management-Oriented Evaluation Approaches 88

---

*Developers of the Management-Oriented Evaluation
Approach and Their Contributions* 89

*How the Management-Oriented Evaluation
Approach Has Been Used* 94

*Strengths and Limitations of the Management-Oriented
Evaluation Approach* 95

6 Consumer-Oriented Evaluation Approaches 100

---

*Developers of the Consumer-Oriented Evaluation
Approach and Their Contributions* 101

How the Consumer-Oriented Evaluation Approach Has Been Used 104

*Strengths and Limitations of the Consumer-Oriented
Evaluation Approach* 108

7 Expertise-Oriented Evaluation Approaches 112

---

Developers of the Expertise-Oriented Evaluation Approach and Their Contributions 114

How the Expertise-Oriented Evaluation Approach Has Been Used 121

8 Participant-Oriented Evaluation Approaches 129

---

Evolution of Participant-Oriented Evaluation Approaches 130

*Developers of the Participant-Oriented Evaluation
Approach and Their Contributions* 131

*How Participant-Oriented Evaluation
Approaches Have Been Used* 145

*Strengths and Limitations of Participant-Oriented
Evaluation Approaches* 146

9 Alternative Evaluation Approaches: A Summary and Comparative Analysis 152

---

Cautions about the Alternative Evaluation Approaches 153

Contributions of the Alternative Evaluation Approaches 158

Comparative Analysis of Characteristics of Alternative Evaluation Approaches 159

Eclectic Uses of the Alternative Evaluation Approaches 163

Drawing Practical Implications from the Alternative Evaluation Approaches 165

PART THREE • Practical Guidelines for Planning Evaluations 169

Introduction of Case Study 170

10 Clarifying the Evaluation Request and Responsibilities 173

---

Understanding the Reasons for Initiating the Evaluation 174

*Conditions under which Evaluation
Studies Are Inappropriate* 178

Determining When an Evaluation Is Appropriate: Evaluability Assessment	182
Using an Internal or External Evaluator	185
Hiring an Evaluator	189
How Different Evaluation Approaches Clarify the Evaluation Request and Responsibilities	192

11 Setting Boundaries and Analyzing the Evaluation Context      199

---

Identifying Intended Audiences for an Evaluation	200
Describing What Is to Be Evaluated: Setting the Boundaries	203
Analyzing the Resources and Capabilities That Can Be Committed to the Evaluation	212
Analyzing the Political Context for the Evaluation	216
Variations Caused by the Evaluation Approach Used	217
Determining Whether to Proceed with the Evaluation	219

12 Identifying and Selecting the Evaluation Questions and Criteria      232

---

Identifying Appropriate Sources of Questions and Criteria: The Divergent Phase	234
Selecting the Questions, Criteria, and Issues to Be Addressed: The Convergent Phase	246
Remaining Flexible during the Evaluation: Allowing New Questions, Criteria, and Standards to Emerge	253

13 Planning How to Conduct the Evaluation      260

---

Identifying Design and Data Collection Methods	262
Specifying How the Evaluation Will Be Conducted: The Management Plan	275
Establishing Evaluation Agreements and Contracts	285

14 *Collecting Evaluation Information:
Design, Sampling, and Cost Choices*      303

---

- Using Mixed Methods*      304
- Designs for Collecting Causal and Descriptive Information*      307
- Sampling*      320
- Cost Analysis*      324

15 Collecting Evaluation Information: Data Sources and Methods, Analysis, and Interpretation      334

---

- Common Sources and Methods for Collecting Information*      335
- Planning and Organizing the Collection of Information*      356
- Analysis of Data and Interpretation of Findings*      358

16 Reporting and Using Evaluation Information      375

---

- Purposes of Evaluation Reports*      376
- Important Factors in Planning Evaluation Reports*      377
- Key Components of a Written Report*      382
- Suggestions for Presenting Information in Written Reports*      388
- Alternative Methods for Reporting: The Adversary Approach*      394
- Human and Humane Considerations in Reporting Evaluation Findings*      395
- Suggestions for Effective Oral Reporting*      398
- A Checklist for Good Evaluation Reports*      400
- How Evaluation Information Is Used*      400

17 Dealing with Political, Ethical, and Interpersonal Aspects of Evaluation      411

---

Establishing and Maintaining Good Communications among Evaluators and Stakeholders      412

Understanding Potential Bias Resulting from the Evaluator's Personal Values and Interpersonal, Financial, and Organizational Relationships with Others      415

Maintaining Ethical Standards: Considerations, Issues, and Responsibilities for Evaluators and Clients      423

Political Pressures and Problems in Evaluation      432

18 Evaluating Evaluations      442

---

The Concept and Evolution of Metaevaluation      443

The Joint Committee's Standards for Program Evaluation      444

Summary of the Program Evaluation Standards      445

AEA Guiding Principles for Evaluators      449

The Role of Metaevaluator      451

Some General Guidelines for Conducting Metaevaluations      453

A Need for More Metaevaluation      455

PART FIVE • Emerging and Future Settings for Program Evaluation      461

19 Conducting Multiple-Site Evaluation Studies      463

---

Purposes and Characteristics of Multiple-Site Evaluations      464

Multisite Evaluation (MSE)      466

On-Site Evaluation at Multiple Sites      471

Cluster Evaluation      475

Other Approaches to Multiple-Site Evaluation      481

20 Conducting Evaluation of Organizations' Renewal and Training in Corporate and Nonprofit Settings 485

---

Evaluation in the Nonprofit Sector	486
Evaluating Corporate Training Programs	491
Personnel Evaluation	495
Other Methods of Organizational Assessment	497

21 The Future of Evaluation 507

---

The Future of Evaluation	508
Predictions concerning the Profession of Evaluation	508
Predictions concerning the Practice of Evaluation	510
A Vision for Evaluation	513
Conclusion	513
Suggested Readings	514

APPENDIX Evaluation-Related Web Sites 515

References 519

Author Index 543

Subject Index 551