CONTENTS

Dedication to John Rawls ix
Amy Gutmann

Preface xi
Stephen Macedo

Contributors xiii

Introduction 1
Stephen Macedo and Melissa S. Williams

PART I: THE INJUSTICE OF DOMINATION

1. Invisible Citizens: Political Exclusion and Domination in Arendt and Ellison 29
Danielle Allen

2. Tragic Visions, Mundane Realities: A Comment on Danielle Allen’s “Invisible Citizens” 77
Clifford Orwin

3. The Domination Complaint 87
Philip Pettit

4. Pettit and Modern Republican Political Thought 118
Miguel Vatter

5. Against Monism: Pluralist Critical Comments on Danielle Allen and Philip Pettit 164
Veit Bader

6. A Reply to Bader and Orwin 179
Danielle Allen
PART II: EXCLUSION, ASSIMILATION, AND THE ROLE OF POLITICAL PHILOSOPHY

8. Exclusion and Assimilation: Two Forms of Domination in Relation to Freedom
   JAMES TULLY

9. Liberal Foundationalism and Agonistic Democracy
   MICHAEL BLAKE

10. Democracy and Legitimacy: A Response to James Tully's "Exclusion and Assimilation"
    LEIF WENAR

11. A Reply to Michael Blake and Leif Wenar
    JAMES TULLY

PART III: BOUNDARIES DRAWN BY SHAME

12. Inscribing the Face: Shame, Stigma, and Punishment
    MARTHA NUSBAUM

13. The Duration of Shame: "Time Served" or "Lifetime"?
    SANFORD LEVINSON

PART IV: SEXUAL DOMINANCE

14. Genocide's Sexuality
    CATHARINE A. MACKINNON

Index