

Foreword	page vii
Note on the text	ix
Notes on language, its deconstruction and on translating by Erich Heller	1
Significant objects : a possibility of realism in early narratives by Wolfgang Harms	12
'Enter Mariners, wet' : realism in Shakespeare's last plays by Anne Barton	28
Language and reality in Bleak House by Graham Hough	50
The problem of nineteenth-century German realism by Martin Swales	68
Proust's Balzac by Sheila Stern	85
Realism, modernism, and 'language-consciousness' by Stephen Heath	103
Nietzsche and the 'middle mode of discourse' by Nicholas Boyle	123
Fabricating histories by Paul Connerton	158
Ounces of example : Henry James, philosopher by Renford Bambrough	169
Afterthoughts on realism by Richard Brinkmann	183
Index	203