TABLE OF CONTENTS

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS 7

INTRODUCTION 13
A. Definitions of Metaphor 14
B. Positive Statement of Procedural Method 19
1. Theory of Meaning 20
2. Preliminary Definition for Selecting Examples . . 24

I. WITTGENSTEIN'S THEORY OF MEANING 31
A. Attack on the Inner Meaning Theory 32
1. "Meaning" 35
a. Inner Images 37
b. Inner Translations 38
2. "Intending" 39
3. "Thinking" 40
4. "Understanding" 41
B. Relevance of Attack on Naming Theory to Attack on Inner Meaning Theory 49
C. Meaning as Use 51
1. Senses of "Use" 51
a. Individual Sense 51
b. Instrumental Sense 52
c. Social Sense 52
2. Significance of Analysis of Meaning as Use . . 60
D. Criticism 61

II. POETIC LANGUAGE 68
A. The Poem as a Presentational Symbol 69
B. The Poem as a Concrete Universal 72
C. The Poem as Icon 76

D. The Poem as a Fusion of Sense and Sensa Achieved by Exploiting Language as a Medium 81
1. Language is the Poet's "Stuff" 82
2. Qualities of Medium or "Stuff" 83
3. Absurdity of Forgetting Any of the Qualities . . 87
4. Fusion of Qualities makes Poetry Untranslatable . 92
E. Generalizations on Poetic Language 96
1. Questions Unanswered by Theorists 98
F. Poetic Language in a Larger Frame of Reference . . 100
G. Wittgenstein and Poetic Language 108

III. METAPHOR 114
A. The Weak Theory 114
B. The Strong Theory 116
1. Reading 117
a. Husserl 118
b. Polemical Dialogue 120
c. Conclusions 130
2. Imagery occurs 133
3. Imagery and Free Association 139
a. Problem 139
b. Examples of Metaphor show Image Control . 140
c. Why Images are not Free 142
4. Imagery and Sense Impressions 150
5. Imagery and Reference 160
a. Metaphorical Language and Imagery is Nonreferential 160
b. "Truth" of Metaphor 165
c. Epoche suspends Naturalistic and "Reality" Judgments 167
6. Imagery and Seeing As 169
a. Wittgenstein's Analysis of "Seeing As" . . . 170
b. "Seeing As" and "Recognizing" 172
c. Extension of Wittgenstein's Analysis of "Seeing As" to Poetic Metaphor 175
C. Metaphor and Theorists of Poetic Language . . . 186
D. Wittgenstein and Metaphor 188

IV. LANGUAGE OF LITERARY DISCUSSION 193
A. Analytical or Verbal Justification 193

B. Justification by Reference or Ostensive Justification 197
1. Purpose of Critical Language is Referential Explanation 197
2. Justification by Reference in the Strict Sense . . 201
3. Justification by Reference in the Weak Sense . . 202
C. Wittgenstein and Critical Explanation 207

CONCLUSION 212

BIBLIOGRAPHY 220

INDEX OF NAMES 225

INDEX OF SUBJECTS 228