

CONTENTS

List of plates	xiii
Acknowledgments	xv
INTRODUCTION	1
1 FROM EUROCENTRISM TO POLYCENTRISM	13
The myth of the West	13
The legacy of colonialism	15
Race and racism	18
The Third World	25
Third World cinema	27
Fourth World and indigenous media	32
The postcolonial and the hybrid	37
Polycentric multiculturalism	46
2 FORMATIONS OF COLONIALIST DISCOURSE	55
"Greece: where it all began"	55
From reconquista to conquista	58
The Columbus debate	61
Revisionist film and the quincentennial	71
Slavery and resistance	77
Renegade voices	82
Antinomies of enlightenment and progress	85
3 THE IMPERIAL IMAGINARY	100
The shaping of national identity	101
Cinema as science and spectacle	104
Projecting the empire	109
The western as paradigm	114
The late imperial film	121
Postmodern war	125
4 TROPES OF EMPIRE	137
Adams in the virgin land	141
Mapping terra incognita	145

CONTENTS

	Excavating the dark continent	148
	Mummies and Egyptology	151
	Rape and the rescue fantasy	156
	The imaginary of the harem	161
	The desert odyssey	166
5	STEREOTYPE, REALISM, AND THE STRUGGLE OVER REPRESENTATION	178
	The question of realism	178
	The burden of representation	182
	The racial politics of casting	189
	The linguistics of domination	191
	Writing Hollywood and race	194
	The limits of the stereotype	198
	Perspective, address, focalization	205
	Cinematic and cultural mediations	208
	The orchestration of discourses	214
6	ETHNICITIES-IN-RELATION	220
	Submerged ethnicities	220
	Dialectics of presence/absence	223
	Erotic allegories	230
	Good neighbors and border crossers	232
	Staging American syncretism	235
	The mutual illumination of cultures	241
7	THE THIRD WORLDIST FILM	248
	Rewriting colonial history	249
	The esthetic of hunger	256
	Third Cinema and militant documentaries	260
	Allegories of impotence	271
	Third Worldist reflexivity	279
	Beyond the national	285
8	ESTHETICS OF RESISTANCE	292
	The archaic sources of alternative esthetics	295
	Carnavalesque subversions	302
	Modernist anthropophagy	307
	Syncretism as artistic strategy	313
	The poetics of disembodiment	318
	Paradigms of looks	322
	Media jujitsu	328

CONTENTS

9	THE POLITICS OF MULTICULTURALISM IN THE POSTMODERN AGE	338
	> Popular culture and political correctness	340
	> Self-representation and the politics of identity	342
	> Negotiating spectatorship	347
	Select bibliography	363
	Index	381

PLATES

Frontispiece Color Schemes by Shu Lea Cheang

1	Commodification in the Amazon: Iracema	33
2	Indigenous media: the Kayapo	36
3	“Greece: where it all began”	55
4	The Discovery of Brazil	65
5	1492: The Conquest of Paradise	65
6	Global discoveries: Columbus on Trial	74
7	Cabral “discovers” Brazil in Land in Anguish	74
8	The hallucinatory conquistador in O No Coronado!	74
9	The shadow of the conquest in Surviving Columbus	75
10	“Green Card” artwork by Inigo Manglano-Ovalle	75
11	Columbus on Trial	75
12	The machete that cuts cane can cut heads: Crispin in The Other Francisco	81
13	Colonial Pedagogy: Crusoe and Friday in The Adventures of Robinson Crusoe	83
14	Colonial classification: peoples of the world	92
15 and 16	Global ubiquity: Around the World in 80 Days and Simba: King of the Beasts	106
17 and 18	The White man’s burden: Beau Geste and Sanders of the River	111
19	Dominating vistas: John Wayne in The Searchers	116
20	Wiping the tears of seven generations	117
21	The imperial family: Indiana Jones and the Temple of Doom	124
22	Peter Jennings “Striding the world like a Colossus”	127
23	Erotic animalization: Josephine Baker in Zou Zou	138
24	Exotic vegetalization: Carmen Miranda as fertility goddess in The Gang’s All Here	139
25	The iconography of a feminized Egypt: Cleopatra (1934)	144
26 and 27	The Mummy (1932) and Raiders of the Lost Ark : Western knowledge rescues the Egyptian past from oblivion	152

PLATES

28	The Mummy (1969): amplifying the voices on the margins of the Egyptological texts	155
29 and 30	Incarnations of the Sheik: from Rudolph Valentino to Elvis Presley	162
31 and 32	Homoeroticism and transvestitism in the orient: Lawrence of Arabia and Sahara	167
33	History whitewashed in Mississippi Burning	179
34	Compromise focalization: Val Kilmer in Thunderheart	207
35	Illusions : the racial dialectics of presence/absence	225
36	The kinetics of servitude: Fred Astaire and Leroy Daniels in The Bandwagon	228
37	Grande Otelo in It's All True	233
38	The chronotope of the jangada	233
39	Masquerade as stratagem: passing the checkpoint in The Battle of Algiers	255
40	Esthetic of hunger: Barren Lives	258
41	Revolutionary icon: Che Guevara in death	266
42	Marriage and commodity fetishism in Sembene's Xala	276
43	In Search of Famine : the contradictions of filming misery	280
44	Egypt as Europe's battlefield: Alexandria Why . . . ?	284
45	The archaic postmodern: Touki-Bouki	294
46 and 47	Afro-diasporic memory: Sankofa and Daughters of the Dust	297
48 and 49	Anthropophagic critique and culinary cinema: How Tasty Was My Frenchman and King Solomon's Mines (1985)	308
50	Border Brujo	313
51 and 52	The scripted body of exile: Homage by Assassination and Measures of Distance	320
53 and 54	Returning the Colonial Gaze: Renee Green's "Hottentot Venus" and Coco Fusco/Gomez Peña's "Two Undiscovered Amerindians"	323
55, 56, 57	Media jujitsu: Slaying the Dragon , Babakiueria , and Introduction to the End of an Argument	330