

Contents

Introduction	1
I. Art, Nature, and Convention
1. Art, Nature, and Convention	15
2. Art and Nature in Antiquity	25
3. Art and Convention in Antiquity	36
4. The Medieval Redefinition	54
II. Convention in the Sixteenth Century
1. The "Duble Name" of Custom: The Reformation Attack on Convention	67
2. "Use Becomes Another Nature": Custom in Sixteenth-Century Politics and Law	90
3. A World on Wheels: Convention in Sixteenth-Century Moral Philosophy	106
4. Neo-Stoic and Baconian Nature: Seventeenth-Century Prospects	133
III. Convention and the Sixteenth-Century Arts of Speech
1. The Possibilities of Discourse: Renaissance Logic, Rhetoric, and Poetics	137
2. "Conveniency to Nature" and the "Secretes of Privitie": Nature and Convention in Defense of Poetry	158
3. The Artlessness of Art: Convention in Renaissance Poetics	175
4. "The Separation of Opinions": The Role of Convention in Criticism and Controversy	188

IV. Contextualism and the Role of Convention in Historiography

1. Historical Rhetoric and Historical Explanation	203
2. The Emergence of Historical Consciousness	215
3. "A Genius of Times": The Contexts of Historical Periods	226
4. "A Passable Contexture": Convention and the Practice of Contextualism	231

V. The Triumph of Convention

1. "A Latitude of Sense": Testing for Truth	241
2. Real and Mental Theater: The Complex of Classicism	264
3. "Betwixt Two Ages Cast": Dryden's Criticism	290
4. "These Broken Ends": Ancients, Moderns, and Modernity	321

Index	349
-------	-----