

Contents

Preface . . . . .	7
PETER PAUL SCHNIERER
Introduction: The Marginal Theatre . . . . .	9
MARGARETE RUBIK
Fringe or Mainstream? What is Marketable? . . . . .	15
JALE ABDOLLAHZADEH
De-constructing and Re-constructing the Gendered Gaze in Lesbian Theatre . . . . .	25
GUY STERN
The Jewish Ensemble Theater of Michigan and its American Premiere of Motti Lerner's Exile in Jerusalem . . . . .	35
NICOLE BOIREAU
The 'undersea kingdom' of Gregory Motton . . . . .	45
CHRISTOPHER INNES
Beyond Categories (Redefining 'mainstream') . . . . .	55
STUART MARLOW
Revisiting Top Girls : Mainstreaming the Alternative . . . . .	69
READE DORNAN
Omaha Magic Theatre: Not Corn, But Babes Unchained . . . . .	77
WOLFGANG HOCHBRUCK
Between 'Living History' and Pageantry: Historical Reenact- ments in American Culture . . . . .	93

CHRISTIANE SCHLOTE

- Other Voices: Latino and Asian American Theatre in
New York . . . . . 107

REGINA KNEER

- Contemporary Black Australian Drama . . . . . 117

ECKHARD BREITINGER

- African Theatre Today: Perception and Reception at africa 95 . . . . . 125

- Contributors . . . . . 147

- Index . . . . . 151