

Contents

Preface	ix
1 Globalization: a new social, political and cultural matrix	1
Contested paradigms	1
Changing worlds	6
Global governance	10
Polanyi's problematic	14
2 Contestation: societal reactions to the free market	20
Social movement theories	20
New and old social movements	25
The good and the bad	29
Polanyian perspectives	34
3 Transnational social movements: from the First International to the World Social Forum	40
European internationalists	40
Communist internationalists	44
Colonialism and contestation	48
Contemporary cosmopolitanism	52
4 The anti-globalization movement: from Seattle (1999) to the future	57
Coming out	57
Zapatistas	62
After the party	66
Anti-capitalism?	70

5	Transnational political fora: actors, issues and prospects	75
	Universal human rights	75
	Global sisterhood	79
	World Social Forum	83
	Ghosts in the machine	89
6	Local transnationalisms: workers, peasants and environmentalists	94
	Workers united	94
	Peasants revolt	98
	Reclaiming the Earth	102
	Militant particularisms	106
7	Reaction and globalization: nationalists, patriots and Jihadists	110
	Nationalism resurgent	110
	Patriots against globalization	114
	Islamists and Jihad	118
	Beyond good and evil	122
8	The great counter-movement: empire, multitude and social transformation	127
	Empire	127
	Multitude	131
	History	135
	Strategy	139
	Bibliography	144
	Index	155