
Contents

Series Editor's Preface, ix

Prologue, xi

1 The Origins of Racial Science, Antiquity–1800, 1

Was There Race in Antiquity?, 1

The Curse of Ham and Medieval Racial Thought, 4

The Age of Exploration, 7

Natural Philosophy and the Colonial Experience:

 The Sixteenth and Seventeenth Centuries, 8

The Science of Anthropology, 12

The Atlantic Slave System, 20

Enlightenment Values and Racial Thought, 22

Conclusion, 24

Bibliographic Essay, 24

2 The Establishment of Racial Typology, 1800–1859, 29

The Reign of Monogenism: Prichard and Lawrence, 35

Steps toward Polygenesis, 39

American Polygenism: Morton, Nott, and Gliddon, 45

Polygenism in the Land of Prichard, 52

Conclusion, 55

Bibliographic Essay, 57

3 Race and Evolution, 1859–1900, 61

Darwin's Argument in On the Origin of Species, 63

Darwin and Wallace on Natural Selection and Human Origins, 67

Darwin on Human Evolution, 69

Physical Anthropology and the Persistence of Polygenism, 72

Spencer and Evolution, 76
Spencer on the Savage Mind, 80
Social Darwinism and Its Variants, 84
Social Darwinism in Germany, 85
Sociocultural Evolutionism in Britain, 88
Bibliographic Essay, 93

4 The Hardening of Scientific Racism, 1900–1945, 97

The Problem of Heredity, 97
Francis Galton, 99
Hard Heredity, 102
The Rise of Nordicism, 105
 Nordicism and Civilization, 105
 The Supremacy of Nordics, 107
The Rise of Eugenics, 109
 Eugenics and Race in the United States, 109
 German Rassenhygiene, 120
Bibliographic Essay, 125

5 The Retreat of Scientific Racism, 1890–1940, 129

Boas and the Culture Concept, 130
Boasian Anthropology and Black Folklore, 137
Psychologists and the Critique of IQ Testing, 144
From Race Psychology to Studies in Prejudice, 146
Genetics and the Critique of Eugenics, 153
Bibliographic Essay, 159

6 The Liberal Orthodoxy, 1940–1960, 163

The Geneticists' Manifesto, 165
Wartime Antiracism: Benedict, Montagu, and Dunn and Dobzhansky, 168
Experts in Prejudice, 173
An American Dilemma, 177
The Post-Myrdal Liberal Orthodoxy, 181
The Damage Argument, 188
The Breakdown of the Liberal Orthodoxy, 193
The UNESCO Statements on Race, 197
Bibliographic Essay, 201

- 7 *A Multicultural Science of Race, 1965 to the Present, 205
Movement Scholarship, 205
The Rejection of the Pathology of Black Culture, 207
Institutional Racism and Colonialism, 209
Genetics, New Physical Anthropology, and the Abandonment of Race, 213
Forward to the Past: The Psychometrician Case for Race Differences, 219
Psychometrics, Intelligence, and Heritability, 222
Geneticists versus the Psychometricians, 224
The Psychometricians versus Scholars of Institutional Racism, 226
Psychometric Case for Policy, 230
Bibliographic Essay, 233

Chronology, 237

Glossary, 243

Documents, 255

Bibliography, 371

Index, 387

About the Authors, 403