

CONTENTS

List of Illustrations	10
Preface	11
Introduction: Getting to the Bottom of Things	13
1. Remapping the Terrain	13
2. Chaos and Complexity	16
3. Defining Terms	19
4. A Note On and For Readers	27
5. Organization	30
 PART ONE: THEORETICAL ENCIRCLEMENTS
 Chapter 1
From Matter to Mind: Revolutions Real and Conceptual	37
1. Paradigm Change and Chaos: The Analysis of Position	37
2. The Ground of Immanence or Parsing Particles	49
3. Parsing the Brain: Cytoskeletons and the Limits of Computability	57
4. Getting It Together: Solitons, Wave Packets, and Brain	61
5. Attitude and Positionality	68
 Chapter 2
Imitating Nature – Gaining the Right Perspective	73
1. Thinking Aside and Creativity	73
2. More on Mimesis or Making Motion	76
3. Mimesis as an Interdisciplinary Undertaking	85
4. Attitude and Aesthetic Experience	91
5. Spaces, Gaps, Openings, Tensions: Mapping Reality	97
6. Creative Strategies	107
 Chapter 3
Grounding Creativity: Nietzsche and the New Universe	111
1. It's All in the Motion	111
2. The Total Economy of Life and the Nature of Genius	116
3. Quanta of Energy	127
4. Vision of the New Universe and Eternal Recurrence	130

Chapter 4

Eden's Aftermath: The Nature of Evil	135
1. Rethinking Evil	135
2. The Fall from Harmonious Order	140
3. Evil According to Leibniz and Spinoza	144
4. Kant on Moral Character	151
5. Nietzsche, Consciousness, and the Centrality of Design	157
6. Evil in the New Scheme of Things	161

PART TWO: LITERARY ITERATIONS

Chapter 5

"A Highly Complex Matter":

The Spirit of the Earth, Evil, and Creativity in Faust	169
1. Interpreting Faust : Connectionism	169
2. Revolutions: Goethe, Science, and the Novel of the Universe	174
3. Chaos and Creativity I: Spirits of the Earth	187
3.1 The Spirit of the Earth	188
3.2 Mephistopheles	191
4. Chaos and Creativity II: Places and Spaces	200
4.1 Prologue in Heaven	200
4.2 The Witch's Kitchen	202
4.3 Sun and Cataract	205
4.4 The Mothers	207
4.5 Homunculus	211
5. Willful Acts, Natural Acts, Essential Tensions	216
6. The Fifth Element	223

Chapter 6

Zarathustra – Life on Earth	231
1. A Philosophical Novel – Philosophy as Dance	231
2. Life on the High Wire – Gravity as the Devil	242
3. The Gateway	246
4. The Snake and the Shepherd	249
5. Chaos and Autopoiesis	252
6. The Cult of the Surface and the Need to Interpret	255
7. Writing as Ordering	258
8. On the Creative Attitude	259

Chapter 7

The Tin Drum: Myth and Reality, or The Eternal Return	265
1. Planting Grass	265
2. Reality and Modern Myth Making: Science and Fiction	271
3. Plotting (His)story: Who's Oskar and What's He Doing Here?	275
4. Oskar: Nietzschean Gnome or Goethean Earth Spirit?	280
5. The Art of Drumming: Of Mothers and Moths	282
6. Sex unto Death	289
7. The Black Wicked Witch	299
8. Escalator Thoughts, or The Terrible Basic Text homo natura	303
9. Metaphysical Geometry: The Shapes of Reality	308
10. The Grammar of Biology	316
11. Summing Up: On Being Creative	320
Epilogue: Emergence, Horizons, Continuance	323
Bibliography	337
Index	361

LIST OF ILLUSTRATIONS

Fig. 1.1: Hypercycles	50
Fig. 1.2: Sample Elementary Particles	52
Fig. 1.3: Models of the Atom	55
Fig. 1.4: Neuron Structure	60
Fig. 1.5: Microtubules	60
Fig. 1.6: Multipolar Nerve Cells	60
Fig. 1.7: The Human Brain	65
Fig. 1.8: The Human Brain	65
Fig. 1.9: Matter – Meaning – Energy	66
Fig. 2.1: Cantor Set	99
Fig. 2.2: Cantor Set on Way to Becoming Cantor Dust	99
Fig. 2.3: Human Hand Viewed at 1 cm	100
Fig. 2.4: Human Hand Viewed at 1 mm	100
Fig. 2.5: Gingerbread Man	101
Fig. 2.6: Julia Set	102
Fig. 2.7: Shifts of Attention	107
Fig. 4.1: Garden of Eden	141
Fig. 5.1: Structure of Faust	196
Fig. 7.1: Presumptive Fathers	311
Fig. 7.2: Four Elements	312
Fig. 7.3: Geometric Magic	313
Fig. 7.4: Accumulating Knowledge	315
Fig. 7.5: The Microcosm	322