

Contents

Notes on Contributors	vii
General Editors' Preface	ix
Acknowledgements	x
Introduction: Grace Under Pressure	1
1 Approaching the Unapproached Light: Milton and the Romantic Visionary Jonathon Shears	25
2 Cowper Prospects: Self, Nature, Society Vincent Newey	41
3 'Je sais bien, mais quand même ...': Wordsworth's Faithful Scepticism Gavin Hopps	57
4 Catholic Contagion: Southey, Coleridge and English Romantic Anxieties Timothy Webb	75
5 'Sacrifice and Offering Thou Didst Not Desire': Byron and Atonement Peter Cochran	93
6 'I was Bred a Moderate Presbyterian': Byron, Thomas Chalmers and the Scottish Religious Heritage Christine Kenyon Jones	107
7 Byron's Confessional Pilgrimage Alan Rawes	121
8 Words and the Word: The Diction of Don Juan Richard Cronin	137
9 'Why Should I Speak?': Scepticism and the Voice of Poetry in Byron's Cain Tony Howe	155
10 Byron's Monk-y Business: Ghostly Closure and Comic Continuity Edward Burns	167
11 'A Fine Excess': Hopkins, Keats and the Gratiuity of Grace Corinna Russell	181

vi	Romanticism and Religion from William Cowper to Wallace Stevens
12	‘Until Death Tramples It to Fragments’: Percy Bysshe Shelley after Postmodern Theology Arthur Bradley	191
13	Sacred Art and Profane Poets Jane Stabler	207
14	‘The Death of Satan’: Stevens’s ‘Esthétique du Mal’, Evil and the Romantic Imagination Michael O’Neill	223
	Bibliography	237
	Index	255