

Part 3 Framing/Controlling/Establishing the Beautiful

7. The Eyes Have It: Seeing the Beautiful in Gray's Anatomy 103
James Robert Allard
8. "Pretty Maids All in a Row": Some Thoughts on Collections of Female "Beauties" in the Renaissance 117
Sally Hickson
9. Portraiture's Unruly Faces: Beauty in Jo Spence's Putting Myself in the Picture 131
Nancy Pedri

Part 4 Beauty and Moral Goodness

10. The Sensible Eye: Beauty and Abject in Ancient Confucian Thinking about Funeral Rites 149
Anna Ghiglione
11. "Honey Falling upon Honey": The Angelus Couple in the Works of Dali 173
Michael Johnson
12. "Beauty" and "the Abject" in the Cretan Renaissance Pastoral Tragicomedy Panoria by Georgios Chortatsis 181
Marina Rodosthenous

Part 5 Female Power Inside and Outside the Margins

13. The Semiotics of Homosexuality in Television Commercials and Film: Diabolique and Bound 199
Elizabeth D'Angelo

14. One of These Days These Boots Are Gonna Walk
All Over You: An Examination of the Femme Fatale's Evolution 211
Erin Finley
15. The Spymaster who Loved Me: M and the Gender Dynamics of the Bond Phenomenon 225
Jim Leach

Part 6 Artistic and Linguistic Representations of the Sublime and its Disruptive Counterpart, the Abject

16. Beauty and the Beast within: The Glorious
Bastards of Versailles 237
Peter Glidden
17. Sleeping Beauty: Propertius, Elegies 1.3 253
Carol U. Merriam
18. Poetry and the Abject: The Case of the Italian
New Avant-Garde 267
John Picchione

Contributors 281

Index 285