

Contents

I INTRODUCTION

- War and Literature
(FRANZ KARL STANZEL) 13
- Themes of First World War Literature
(MARTIN LÖSCHNIGG) 25

II ANTHEMS FOR DOOMED YOUTH

- PATRICK BRIDGWATER (Durham)
Discovering a Post-Heroic War Poetry 43
- KLAUS VONDUNG (Siegen)
Apokalyptische Deutungen des Ersten Weltkriegs in Deutschland 59
- D.N.G. CARTER (Trieste)
"Two Fusiliers": Robert Graves and Siegfried Sassoon 73
- FRANZ KARL STANZEL (Graz)
"The Beauty of the Bayonet": Hand-to-hand Combat in English and German Poetry 83
- MARTIN LÖSCHNIGG (Graz)
Intertextuality, Textuality and the Experience of War:
David Jones's In Parenthesis and Otto Nebel's Zug-insfeld 99
- HANS ULRICH SEEGER (Stuttgart)
Modernization, Violence and Modern Poetry. Comments on Wilfred Owen, August Stramm and Lascelles Abercrombie 121

TIM CROSS (New York)
Scepticism towards the First World War before 1916: Gustav Sack and Arthur Graeme West	137
HILDA D. SPEAR (Dundee)
A City at War: Dundee and the Battle of Loos	149
THOMAS B. VINCENT (Kingston, Ont.)
Canadian Poetry of the Great War and the Effect of the Search for Nationhood	165
III THE FOE IMAGINED
HOLGER KLEIN (Salzburg)
Comrades? – The Enemy as Individual in First World War Poetry	181
HANS-JOACHIM LANG (Hamburg)
England als Erzfeind in der deutschen Kriegsdich- tung, 1914-1915	201
DOMINIC HIBBERD (Oxford)
Attitudes to Germany in the Work of Wilfred Owen and Other British Poets of the First World War	223
HERBERT FOLTINEK (Vienna)
Charles H. Sorley and Germany	235
IV OLD AND NEW PARADIGMS OF WAR
ULRICH SCHULZ-BUSCHHAUS (Graz)
Exaltation des Kriegs und Zerstörung der Syntax bei F.T. Marinetti	257

- GÜNTHER A. HÖFLER (Graz)
 Das neue Paradigma des Krieges und seine literari-schen Repräsentationen. Dargestellt an D. v. Liliencron,
 E. Jünger und Th. Goote 277
- V THE WAR IN RETROSPECT: AUTOBIOGRAPHY – AUTOBIOGRAPHICAL FICTION – FICTION
- BRUNO SCHULTZE (Hamburg)
 Fiction and Truth: Politics and the War Novel 297
- ULRICH BROICH (Munich)
 World War I in Semi-Autobiographical Fiction and in Semi-Fictional Autobiography – Robert Graves and Ludwig Renn 313
- HANS-HARALD MÜLLER (Hamburg)
 "Herr Jünger thinks war a lovely business": On the Reception of Ernst Jünger's In Stahlgewittern in Germany and Britain before 1933 327
- VI STAGING THE WAR
- HEINZ KOSOK (Wuppertal)
 Problems of Presentation, Attitude and Reception in English and Irish Plays about the First World War 343
- DOUGLAS GILL a. ULRICH SCHNEIDER (Erlangen)
 Mutiny as a Theme in English and German Literature on World War I 365
- STANLEY WEINTRAUB (Pennsylvania)
 The Peace of 1914. Christmas Truce 383

VII A GENDERED PERSPECTIVE OF 1914-18

ALAN BANCE (Southampton)

Sexuality, Gender and the First World War: The Impact of War on Sexual Mores and Sexual Consciousness in Britain and Germany 405

HANNA BEHREND (Berlin)

"Seedcorn must not be ground down": Vera Brittain's and Käthe Kollwitz's Response to the First World War 425

WALTER HÖLBLING (Graz)

"Cultural Paradigms" and the "Gendered Eye": World War I in the Works of U.S. and German-Language Women Authors 447

VIII THE PROFESSORS' WAR

PETER FIRCHOW (Minneapolis)

Shakespeare, Goethe and the War of the Professors, 1914-1918 465

MARJORIE PERLOFF (Stanford)

The Limits of Language: Russell, Wittgenstein and the Poethics of War 493

IX PAINTERS AT WAR

PATRICK BRIDGWATER (Durham)

The German Painters of the First World War 517

MARIA TIPPETT (Cambridge)

British and Canadian Art and the Great War 541

List of Illustrations 555

Index 557