

Contents

List of illustrations	ix
About the contributors	x
Acknowledgments	xiv
1 Introduction: deparliamentarization and European integration	1
JOHN O'BRENNAN AND TAPIO RAUNIO
PART I
National parliaments and European integration	27
2 Accountability through national parliaments: practice and problems	29
MUIRIS MACCARTHAIGH
3 Interparliamentary cooperation within Europe	46
CHRISTINA BENGTON
4 European scrutiny in national parliaments: individual efforts in the collective interest?	66
PHILIPP KIIVER
5 National legislatures in the EU Constitutional Treaty	79
TAPIO RAUNIO
PART II
National parliaments in the 'old' European Union	93
6 The European Union in national parliaments: domestic or foreign policy? A study of Nordic parliamentary systems	95
HANS HEGELAND

7	South European national parliaments and the European Union: an inconsistent reactive revival	116
	JOSÉ MAGONE
8	The French Assemblée Nationale and the German Bundestag in the European Union: towards convergence in the 'old' Europe?	132
	CARINA SPRUNGK
9	Scrutiny of EU legislation in the UK parliament: the first thirty years ... and beyond?	163
	ADAM CYGAN
10	Ireland: enhanced parliamentary scrutiny of European affairs: but is it effective?	178
	PATRICIA CONLAN
PART III
	National parliaments in the new member states	201
11	The Polish parliament and EU affairs: an effective actor or an accidental hero?	203
	ADAM ŁAZOWSKI
12	The role of the Hungarian National Assembly in EU policy-making after accession to the Union: a mute witness or a true controller?	220
	ENIKŐ GYÓRI
13	The National Assembly of the Republic of Slovenia and EU affairs before and after accession	241
	PRIMOŽ VEHAR
14	Parliamentary involvement in the EU accession process: the Bulgarian experience	255
	PAVLINA STOYKOVA
15	Conclusion: national parliaments gradually learning to play the European game?	272
	JOHN O'BRENNAN AND TAPIO RAUNIO
	Bibliography	287
	Index	307

Illustrations

Figures

1.1 Parliamentary scrutiny of EU affairs	16
--	----

Tables

1.1 National parliaments' adaptation to European integration	9
3.1 Involvement by national parliaments in European affairs	47
6.1 The five aspects and the two ideal types	96
6.2 How EU matters are dealt with in Denmark, Finland and Sweden from five aspects	111
7.1 The Southern European parliaments	118