

Contents

Presentation by Paul Willemen	1
Introduction by Don Macpherson	5
Part I: The Thirties and the Seventies
'Independence' and the Thirties by Claire Johnston	9
British Documentary in the 1930s and 'Independence': Recontextualising a Film Movement by Annette Kuhn	24
The Avant-Garde Attitude in the Thirties by Deke Dusinberre	34
Film and Political Organisations in Britain 1929–39 by Trevor Ryan	51
Politics and 'Independent' Film in the Decade of Defeat by Paul Marris	70
Part II: Censorship and the Law
Introduction by Don Macpherson	96
The Film Society by Ivor Montagu	105
Acts Under the Acts by Ralph Bond	108
Dirty Work by Ralph Bond	110
Action over 'Potemkin': (i) Important Notice. The Daily Worker, 4.1.1934.	112
(ii) LCC Again Bans 'Potemkin'. The Daily Worker, 9.1.1934	112
(iii) Government Act Against 'Potemkin'. The Daily Worker, 12.1.1934	112
Film Censorship by Ivor Montagu	113
Why Not Form a Film Society in Your Own Town by Ralph Bond	116
Politics on the Screen. Sight and Sound, Summer 1936	118
Newsreels Show Political Bias. World Film News, October 1936	119
'March of Time' under the Scalpel—Is it Fascist? by George Dangerfield	120
And a Reply—Pity the Journalist by John Grierson	121
Surrey County Council: A Letter to the NCCL	123
Cardiff Police vs. NCCL	124
Film as Evidence: 'Police Use Cine-Camera to Convict Speedsters'. World Film News, May 1936	125
Part III: The Labour Movement and Oppositional Cinema
Introduction by Don Macpherson	126
How Labour Can Use The Films by Benn	130
A Workers' Film Society by Benn	131
Why Not a Socialist Newsreel by Benn	133
First Steps Towards a Workers' Film Movement by Ralph Bond	134

The Plebs Debate:
(i) Labour and the Cinema by Huntly Carter	135
(ii) The Cinema: An Instrument of Class Rule by Benn	138
(iii) Where are the British Labour Films? by Huntly Carter	139
(iv) Labour and the Cinema: A Reply to Huntly Carter by Ralph Bond	140
(v) Labour and the Cinema (II) by Huntly Carter	142
National Government Propaganda Films by E. H. Lindgren	144
Filming the May Day Demonstration. New Red Stage, June/July 1932	145
Films in the Streets. The Daily Worker, 3.8.1933	146
Film Notes by Peter Porcupine	146
The New Road to Progress by Kino	147
To Our Readers (I). Kino News, Winter 1935	148
The Power of the Film. Kino News, Winter 1935	149
Making Films With a Purpose by Ralph Bond	150
Making Film History. Kino News, Spring 1936	150
Labour Cinema Propaganda by Walter Citrine and J. S. Middleton	153
Labour Opens Its Eyes. Kino News, Spring 1936	153
Films for Labour by Frank Jackson	154
To Our Readers (II). Kino News, Spring 1936	155
Film Production by the Kino Production Committee	156
Workers Produce Propaganda Film. Kino News, Spring 1936	157
TUC Congress 1937: Report to the General Council— Cinema Propaganda	157
Film and Photo League—Left Film Front	158
Film and Photo League—Report of Left Book Club Conference. Left News, August 1937	158
TUC Congress 1939: Report on the Workers' Film Association	161
Spain and Anti-Fascism: Spanish ABC by Thorold Dickinson	162
Shooting in Spain by Sidney Cole	163
Building the Groups. Left News, February 1938	164

Part IV: Avant-garde/Art/Criticism

Introduction by Don Macpherson	165
As Is by Kenneth Macpherson	167
The Independent Cinema Congress by Jean Lenauer	168
Scrutiny by B. Vivian Braun	169
The Principles of the Film by Robert Fairthorne	170

Manifesto on the Documentary Film by Oswell Blakeston	173
Film: Definition by B. Vivian Braun	174
Half a Year of Film Art by B. Vivian Braun	175
Open Letter by L. Moholy-Nagy	176
Manifesto—Dialogue on Sound by Basil Wright and B. Vivian Braun	178
Reply to a letter by H. P. J. Marshall by B. Vivian Braun	179
The Future of Documentary by Basil Wright	180
Notes on Art and Movie by Oswell Blakeston	181
Colour Won't Stand Dignity by Humphrey Jennings	182
Avant-Garde to the Rescue: Revolution in Advertising Films. World Film News, April 1936	183
Experiment in Colour by Len Lye	184
Len Lye Reviews . . .	186

Appendix: Television and Radio

Introduction by Don Macpherson	187
Manifesto on Television by Alberto Cavalcanti, Cedric Belfrage, Thorold Dickinson, John Grierson, Graham Greene	188
Manifesto: Television Must Contact the Individual. World Film News, June 1937	189
Radio—The Problem of the Audience. World Film News, May 1936	190

Part V: Amateur Films

Introduction by Don Macpherson	191
This Montage Business by Ralph Bond	198
The Future of the Amateur Film Movement by Leslie Duckworth	199
The Amateur Film Maker: Work or play? by Erik Chisholm	200
The Independent Film Maker: No More Film Plays! by Eric M. Knight	202
Independent Film Makers' Association. Cinema Quarterly, Autumn 1933	203
Home Movies 1934 Competitions. Home Movies and Home Talkies, August 1934	205
The Editor's Newsreel. Home Movies and Home Talkies, October 1936	205
Cinema Log by Kenneth Gordon	206

Appendices

1. Filmography by Trevor Ryan	208
2. Selective Bibliography	225

Cover: Chamberlain as mannequin, from Peace and Plenty (1939)