	About the Authorsxvii
PART I	COST ACCOUNTING FOUNDATIONS	1
CHAPTER 1	Introduction to Cost Accounting	3
	The Purpose of Cost Accounting	4
	Costs for Reporting vs. Costs for Management Planning and Control	7
	Good Cost Accounting Systems	8
	The Human Element in Cost Accounting	9
	Suggested Reading	10
	Exercises	10
CHAPTER 2	Cost Definitions	13
	Definition and Characteristics of Costs	15
	Cross-Subsidization of Costs	19
	True Cost, Economic Cost, and Accounting Cost	21
	The Long Term vs. the Short Term	24
	Departmental vs. Product-Line Costing	26
	External Costs	30
	Notes	31
	Suggested Reading	31
	Exercises	31
	Problems	31
CHAPTER 3	Product Costing	33
	The Need for Product Costing	34
	Job-Order and Process Costing	34
	Process Costing	36
	Job-Order Costing	37

	Hybrid Approaches to Product Costing	40
	Standard Costing Systems	41
	Microcosting	46
	Product Costing and Computers	46
	Notes	47
	Suggested Reading	47
	Exercises	47
	Problems	48
CHAPTER 4	Cost Allocation	49
	What Is Cost Allocation?	51
	Determining Overhead Application Rates	52
	Cost Allocation and Motivation	59
	Allocating Joint Costs	63
	Traditional Cost Allocation for Health Care Organizations	66
	Is Good-Enough Cost Finding Good Enough?	76
	Notes	79
	Suggested Reading	79
	Exercises	79
	Problems	80
CHAPTER 5	Costing for Nonroutine Decisions	83
	Cost Information for Nonroutine Decisions	84
	Sunk Costs Are Irrelevant	85
	The Role of Volume	86
	Terminology for Relevant Costing	88
	Examples of Nonroutine Decisions	88
	Cost-Benefit and Cost-Effectiveness Analysis	92
	Notes	94
	Suggested Reading	94
	Exercises	94
	Problems	95
CHAPTER 6	Cost-Volume-Profit Analysis	97
	The Cost-Volume-Profit Relationship	98
	Breakeven Analysis	100
	Caveats	107
	Mixed Costs and Step-Fixed Costs	111
	Using Breakeven Analysis for Decision Making	112
	Suggested Reading	113
	Exercises	113
	Problems	114

PART II	COST ACCOUNTING INFORMATION FOR PLANNING AND CONTROL	117
CHAPTER 7	Predicting Future Costs	119
	Using Groups for Estimating Costs	121
	Indexing for Inflation	122
	Cost Estimation Using Linear Regression	125
	Forecasting	136
	Learning Curves	150
	Exercises	155
	Problems	156
	Case Study—Part 1	157
CHAPTER 8	Budgeting	159
	The Role of Budgeting	160
	Budgeting Philosophy	162
	The Master Budget	163
	The Long-Range Budget	164
	The Operating Budget	165
	The Cash Budget	167
	Program Budgets	175
	The Capital Budget	175
	Special-Purpose Budgets	187
	The Negotiation and Approval Process	187
	Flexible Budgets	188
	Note	188
	Suggested Reading	188
	Exercises	189
	Problems	189
	Case Study—Part 2	191
	Appendix 8–A: Present Value and Compound Interest Tables	193
CHAPTER 9	Flexible Budgeting and Variance Analysis	199
	Traditional Variance Analysis	201
	Flexible Budget Variance Analysis	203
	Calculation of Variances	210
	Variance Analysis and Management Control	214
	Revenue Variances	218
	Notes	225
	Suggested Reading	225

Exercises225
Problems226
Case Study—Part 3227

CHAPTER 10 Management Control229
Is Management Control a Science?230
Responsibility Centers for Management Control231
The Management Control Process233
Key Variables235
Internal Control Systems237
Transfer Pricing242
Management Control of Projects242
Notes250
Suggested Reading250
Exercises251
Problem251

PART III ADDITIONAL COST ACCOUNTING TOOLS TO AID IN DECISION MAKING253

CHAPTER 11 Cost Accounting Ratios255
Financial Ratios256
Development of a New Set of Ratios257
Some Cost Accounting Ratios258
Comparisons260
Notes262
Suggested Reading262
Exercises262
Problems263

CHAPTER 12 Measuring Productivity265
Productivity Defined266
The Traditional Approach to Measuring Productivity266
The Total Productivity Ratio267
The Partial Productivity Ratio268
Productivity and Indirect Costs270
Managing Discretionary Costs273
Notes280
Suggested Reading280
Exercises281
Problems281

CHAPTER 13	Inventory	283
	Inventory Costing	.284
	Minimization of Inventory Costs	.291
	Inventory Issues Related to Health Care Manufacturing	.303
	Notes	.303
	Suggested Reading	.303
	Exercises	.303
	Problems	.304
CHAPTER 14	Dealing with Uncertainty	305
	Uncertainty	.306
	The Expected Value Technique	.306
	Simulation Analysis	.313
	Network Cost Budgeting	.319
	Linear Programming	.326
	Notes	.331
	Suggested Reading	.331
	Exercises	.332
	Problems	.332
CHAPTER 15	Information Systems for Costing	335
	Considerations in Designing Costing Systems	.336
	The Risks of Do-It-Yourself Computing	.338
	Suggested Reading	.342
	Exercises	.343
CHAPTER 16	Performance Evaluation and Incentive Compensation	345
	Responsibility Centers	.346
	Evaluating Investment Centers and Their Managers	.349
	Creating Compensation Incentives	.353
	Notes	.358
	Suggested Reading	.358
	Exercises	.358
	Problem	.359
PART IV	COST ACCOUNTING FOR THE FUTURE	361
CHAPTER 17	New Approaches to Cost Accounting	363
	Is There a Problem with Traditional Cost Accounting?	.364
	Kaplan's Four-Stage Cost Model	.365
	An Alternative: New Generally Accepted Accounting Principles for One Unified System	.367

	The Japanese Alternative	369
	Dashboards	370
	Balanced Scorecards	371
	Notes	372
	Suggested Reading	373
	Exercises	373
CHAPTER 18	Activity-Based Costing	375
	What is ABC?	376
	Why Use ABC?	378
	Two Approaches to ABC	378
	Tracing vs. Allocating in ABC	378
	ABC Allocation Principles	379
	What Should Be Allocated in ABC?	380
	An ABC Example in the Pharmacy	381
	Designing and Documenting an ABC Project	386
	Commencing an ABC Project in the Day Surgery	387
	Another Approach to ABC	389
	The Activity-Based Management Concept	390
	Does ABC Make Sense for Health Care Organizations?	391
	Notes	392
	Suggested Reading	392
	Exercises	392
	Problems	393
Chapter 19	Total Cost Management: Measuring the Costs of Quality ...	395
	Cost Accounting and Quality Management	396
	An Introduction to TQM	397
	A Focus on Time	399
	A Focus on Cost	400
	Total Cost Management	401
	The Quality of Cost Data	416
	A Focus on Customers	419
	Notes	419
	Suggested Reading	420
	Exercises	420
	Problems	421
Chapter 20	Summary and Issues for the Future	423
	Cost Accounting Foundations	424
	Cost Accounting Information for Planning and Control	427
	Additional Cost Accounting Tools to Aid in Decision Making	429
	Cost Accounting for the Year 2010 and Beyond	431
	Additional Future Issues	433

Notes	438
Suggested Reading	439
Exercises	439
Glossary	441
Index	461
