

Table of Contents

Preface	9
Prelude: Sequel to the Zen Story “What is Stirring?”	13
Introduction and Theorization of Fantastic Literature	15
Introduction	15
Chinese Critiques and Theories	17
Etymology of Fantastic/Fantastique and Fantasy/Fantaisie	20
French Critiques and Theories	22
English Critiques and Theories	25
Critiques and Theories from Other Western Linguistic Cultures	30
Creation vis-à-vis Theorization –	32
Authors' Own Interpretations of the Genre	32
Conclusion: Fantasticism or Fantastic Poetics	37
Part One The Imaginary Mimesis of Fantastic Literature:	41
Mythopoeia, Metaphysics, Metamorphosis and Musicality	41
Fantasia: The Voyage of Zephyrus in the Cave	43
Introduction	45
Definitions of the Imaginary	47
Archaic Memory and Dream from the Collective Unconscious and Unus Mundus	49
The Reverie of the Four Elements and Metamorphosis	54
Fantastic Storytelling and la Fantastique	59
Mythopoeia – The Heritage of Human Imagination	69
Crystallization of Mythos and Logos	69
Chôra as the Archetype of the Bourgeoning Metamorphosis of the Unknown	73
Mythopoeia, Rhetoric and Poetic Paradox –	83
From Poetry to Fantastic Storytelling	83
Periodization of Fantastic Literature and the Evolution of Human Consciousness	91
Critiques with Historical Vision of Fantastic Creation	91
On the Evolution of Human Consciousness	96
Primitive Conception	99
Myth as the Fabrication of Truth	100
Intellectual Skepticism	103

Truth in Mirage	114
Metamorphosis of the Fantastic Imaginary –	121
The Universal Themes	121
Subject “I” Confronted with Time and Space	123
Subject “I” Confronted with Humans	124
Subject “I” Confronted with the Nonhuman	126
Unus Mundus of Harmonism –	137
Music and the Eucharistic Alchemy of Language	137
From Sundered Niches to Sanctuary – Fission and Fusion	140
Style of Recovery –	146
Fantastic Diction Returns to Myth Aspiring for Chôra	146
Archaism – In Search of the Archaic Soul	152
Eucharistic Alchemy of Language	155
After Slaying the Dragon, Harken to the Birds!	163
Harmonism in the Footsteps of Nature	167
Fantastic Storytelling as Enchanting Chanting	167
Archaic Music – Narrating through Poems and Embedding Poems in Prose	172
Primitive Rhythm of Chôra and Tetra-Elements	181
Conclusion	187
Part Two Rhetoric of Fantastic Literature:	189
Discourses of Dream, Mirror and the Magician’s Hat	189
Capriccio: Zhuang Zi and Zephyrus	191
Introduction	193
The Essence of Strangeness in Metamorphosis	196
Strangeness through Alchemy of Language – Metamorphosis	200
Ethos: Rhetoric vis-à-vis the Author and the Reader	202
The Dream-Discourse	207
The Dream-Discourse as External Alchemy	211
The Investiture of the Gods and the Symphony of Euphoriant Alchemy	213
Tolkien as a Modern Homer	228
The Dream-Discourse as Internal Alchemy	237
Journey to the West and Taming the Monkey’s Mind	237

Goethe's Faust in Company with Shadow	244
The Mirror-Discourse	253
Enunciated Space-Time as Interplay of Mimesis and Strangeness	255
Figure and Fantastic Language –	260
From Figurative to Literal Meanings	260
The Mirror in the Painting – The Rhetoric of Mise en Abyme	262
Expression of Exaggeration or Hyperbole and Repetition	265
Set Expressions Apt to be Taken as Literal Meanings	271
Synchronicity of Modal Expressions	275
The Significance of Enunciation	280
Homodiegetic Narrator and the Requirement for a Narrative Pact	281
Heterodiegetic Narrator with Internal Focalization –	286
Following the Hero's Vision	286
The Embedded Enunciation	291
Semantic and Formal Syntax – Form Leading to Content	296
The Magician's Hat-Discourse	301
Time-Space Grounded in the Realism of Man's Law	304
From Modal to Indicative Expressions as from the Known to the Unknown Realm	307
Hyperbolic Language Brings the Figures into Action	311
Fables of the Nonhuman and the Imagined Discourse from Theriomorphic Space	316
Language in Harmony with Nature's Law: Spatial Particles of Chôra	319
Realism Replete with Wonders	320
Figures as Figures	326
The Sheer Mise en Abyme of Chôra – The Unknown Space-Time and Faerie	330
The Semantic as Formal Syntax Based on Hypotyposis	341
Conclusion	343
Bibliography	345
Author / Title Index	367
Subject Index	373